Sound Doctrine.

There is nothing more commendable than many men and womanly women, but it is certainly a sad mistake when parents encourage their children in the idea that they are grown or rather that they are capable of being their own judges of what is right and wrong. Some people are so wrapped up in their children that it is impossible for them to see their faults. They throw but little restraint around them and allow them all possibilities of grown up people long before they are out of knee pants and short dresses. This is the prime cause for so many boys and girls who have all the advantages, growing up with only a smattering education and with no settled purpose in life. They are allowed to go to school when they feel like it, and to stay at home when they please,
and if the teacher don't please them they quit. We believe in giving the children all the privileges necessary, but the parent should be firm as well as watchful, and guide and direct their young minds in the ways that are right until their characters are firmly moulded.
Parents could avoid many bitter heartaches if they would only throw the proper restraint around their children while they are growing up. It takes this to turn out many men and womanly women.

E. S. E. Byan, a practicing physician of DeKalb county, has brought suit against a large number of physicians in Atlanta, claiming that they have damaged him to the amount of $10,000. Dr. Byan claimed that they hired a man to place before the grand jury of that county some time ago—physicians names who were practicing medicine without license, and his name was among them.

A pension of $12 a month has just been granted to Mrs. Polesneria Decker, of Philadelphia, Pa., says a Washington dispatch to The World. She is the widow of a soldier of the war of 1812, is nearly ninety years old and is blind.

So much rain has caused the farmers to get behind some.

When a colored person gets sick they pick up the Bible and go to

Don't forget about renewing your subscription to the Nugget till it expires and has to be discontinued.

Profs. Steed and Ansted returned last week after spending some time pleasantly over in North Carolina fishing.

The Nugget and Atlanta Twice a Week Journal can still be procured at this office for $1.50 a year in advance. No less.

When the widow of an ex-Confederate drawing a pension marries the pension ceases. But it is not so with a man. We know of parties in this county who have fallen into themselves a wife
since being added to the indigent pension roll.

You can't separate the negro and his hounds in Dahlonega matters not how high the city council fixes the taxes on dogs. It is reported that one here now owns fourteen. The ties are as strong between the colored man and his dog as it is between the mountain moonshiner and his still.

We heard of John Hester, a blind man residing in Lumpkin county, being over at Ducktown, Tenn., the other day hunting a job. Poor John is very industrious and a person who never begs.
He makes shingles and performs various kinds of labor which looks impossible. He was not old enough to be in the war and gets nothing from this source, and no doubt often when he can find nothing that he can do suffers for the necessities of life.

Our old friend and former citizen, D. T. Harris, now of Murray-ville, dropped in to see us and renew his subscription to the Nugget last week. Mr. Harris has been engaged for some time in development work on the Elrod property in Hall county, resulting very satisfactory. In speaking of the proposed railroad to Dahlonega said that he felt confident that it would be built and would be of more benefit to Dal-honega than anything it had ever had.

In a short while many people will turn their attention in the direction of Dahlonega with a view of locating in our midst and there is one thing we will caution our real estate owners against, and that is not to hold their property too high. Such as this will injure a place more than anything. Parties who wish to purchase do not like to give as much for a lot as a house will cost them. Some may have only a limited amount of means and if compelled to give a high price for a location will have nothing left to build with and the result is they will be driven away.
Look at Park street and West End.
The former property was owned by Col. Price and that of the latter by Prof. Boyd. They placed a reasonable price on their town lots and the result is they were purchased and nice comfortable buildings now beautify the premises and all occupied. In other parts of the town where property was held at higher figures scarcely a building can be seen. It is the same way by mining property. If they are held for a fancy price the owner generally gets to keep them, benefitting no one. This is food for thought. Look around a little and see if we are not correct.

Cigarette Smoking.

Professor Leaver, M. D., of Chicago university, has recently ascertained some very striking facts says an exchange.

In one class numbering one hundred and forty-seven students he found that seventy seven did not use tobacco. When the two divisions were chest measured those who did not use tobacco surpassed the seventy who did use it to the extent of 104 per cent increase.

The most marked difference was in lung capacity.

There were also found in the city of Chicago, between the ages of eight and fourteen, in the city schools, five thousand cigarette smokers. Not more than four hundred of the five thousands were able to do good work. Progress stops when cigarette smoking begins.

They become listless and nervous, cannot keep up their work, cannot keep still while sitting at their desks and become defective in sight and hearing.

There were few smokers in the higher grades—because the smokers do not reach them. They drop out before that time.

I verily believe every school board should pass an order that boys who are addicted to cigarette smoking should either quit the habit or stop going to school.

Teachers should discourage by every means in their power such a serious and growing evil among school boys. Something must be done to prevent their self destruction if it is possible, and parents should maintain rigid discipline against the evil in the home.

Looks So Natural.

In this life we pass through all the shifting scenes of humor and pathos, of comedy and tragedy,
from the laughing and dancing
merriment of youth into the shadow evening of old age. The world applauds us if we triumph, it despises us if we fail. Too often it gives the need of praise to its benefactors only when they are under the sod. What a strange and cruel philosophy! What do words of praise avail to lift the shadow off our path no longer pressed by weary feet? What are songs worth to beasts that lie still in the songless dust? Why fill the hands of the dead with flowers which we have withheld from the living, and whine, "he looks so natural."

If you love to give, give it to the living, if you have blessings to bestow, bestow them upon the living.
None but God can bless the dead.
Who would not rather have one smile to-day than know that a million roses would be heaped upon his coffin, should he die to-morrow? Who would not rather rejoice among the flowers of love while he lives than to sleep beneath a wilderness of flowers.

God speed the day when the spirit of love shall fall upon the world like the light of morning until all nations shall burst into laughter and song!—Bob Taylor.

The Southern railway announces that it made arrangements with Capt. A. Backman of Findland for the purchase of 10,000 acres of Capt. Backman's purpose is to aid a number of Findlanders who are dissatisfied with political conditions in their country to emigrate to Georgia, where his brother,

Rev. Backman, an influential Lutheran minister, will arrange for the settlers. It is hoped that the result will be considerable Finnish settlements along the line of the railroad.

Big Premiums at Two Fairs.

The dates of the two great Fairs, to be held at Atlanta and Savannah, have been so arranged that exhibits may go from one to the other, and thus take advantage of a double opportunity for winning premium money. A week will intervene between the two Fairs, hence there will be ample time to take down exhibits at Atlanta and re-install them at Savannah in time for the opening of that fair.

Both Fairs offer large premiums for county and individual exhibits of agricultural products, livestock, poultry, woman's work, fine arts, etc. Our people have never before had such a good opportunity for winning substantial cash premiums. Write for premium list as once, and set about capturing some of the money offered. A card addressed to the "Secretary of the Fair," either at Atlanta or Savannah, will bring the desired information.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 5, 1901.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Oil has been struck right recently in Kansas.

Options have been secured on some North Georgia property by parties who wish to prospect for oil.

There is a possibility that the Pacific Railway Co. may construct a bridge across the Mississippi river to cost $8,000,000.

Ed. Falls cut Lon Pierce to death at Blue Ridge last Saturday at a picnic. Pierce is a brother of Oscar Pierce who killed Lowery in North Carolina recently.

The heat in New York and other northern cities has been terrible. In New York Saturday 14 persons and 200 horses died. The next day 11 more people passed away. All from the heat.

Smith Harris, a recent graduate of the N. G. A. College, is studying hard brightening himself up on military tactics, preparing to stand the examination for an official position in the U. S. army.

There will be no issue of the DeKalb Standard this week. Bro. Coffee wanted to stop long enough to pop a fire cracker on the fourth and have time to recover from its effects before going to work again.

The Georgia Weekly Press Association holds its annual meeting in Athens 9th and 10th inst. after which they leave for the Pan-American Exposition. It will be a hot trip but plenty of beer will keep them cool.

R. L. Moon of Monroe county and Ralph W. Adams of Carroll county have been named by State School Commissioner G. R. Glenn to go to the Philippine Islands in the service of the insular at $1,200 a year and traveling expenses to Manila.

The extreme heat caused the deaths of 408 persons in the following cities last Tuesday, New York leading, to wit: New York 155, New Jersey 100, Philadelphia 52, Pittsburgh 50, Baltimore 30, Washington 7, Cleveland 5, St. Louis 5, Detroit 4, Chicago 3, Toledo 3, Cincinnati 2.

The Fannin county jail seems to be very poorly constructed, prisoners having no trouble to escape almost at will. Too more men gained their freedom from it last week. It is about as safe to tie the prisoners over there by the leg with a string like a June bug as to lock them up in this so called prison.

J. B. McKinney has been appointed cattle inspector for this district. Cattle men of North Georgia, will do well to see that they drive no cattle to Blue Ridge that are diseased or infected with ticks, as Mr. McKinney is under strict orders to seize all suspicious cattle, so look out, when buying for shipping purposes.—Blue Ridge World.

Judge W. T. Newman has appointed Eight U. S. commissioners for a term of four years each, commencing last Monday. They are as follows: Thomas R. Jones of Dalton; R. W. Murphy, of Cartersville; E. C. Kennelbore, Athens; John F. Simmons, of Jasper; James B. Gaston, of Gainesville; Rufe H. Baker of Dahlonega; Buck Candler, of Blairsville.

The Westminster (S. C.) Times gives an interesting account of Col. Sanders, a banker of Gainesville, Ga., who went all the way to Westminster to attend the funeral of his old slave, Berry Sanders. After giving what money was necessary to prepare the deceased for the grave Mr. Sanders walked the dusty road for more than a mile in the funeral train, to the last resting place of this old play fellow and servant where he spoke words of tenderness and commendation of a life worthy of emulation.

Gold Saving Made Easy By a New Device.

We have heretofore made mention of the new gold saving device, invented by Mr. Allbright, and this is what he says about it.

"The most efficient mechanism for crushing quartz or any gang matter from an auriferous vein is the old style stamp mill with the copper plate amalgamator. Even if the ore is not free milling, it is the best process for pulverizing the ore for other future treatment. But millions of dollars are yearly lost by ignoring the fact that all ores cannot be treated by amalgamation alone. There are several reasons why this cannot be done and they are:

1st. Where the gold is imbedded in infinitesimal particles in the pyrites of iron or sulphur.

2nd. Where the gold particles are oxidized, that is, where the particles of gold are coated with oxide of iron. And third (and more often, is this the case) that the gold particles are so small and fine that after they leave the battery they are carried off the plate by the water without having touched the mercury or plate. If such a particle happens to be on top of the same when it leaves the battery and there is no obstruction to its course, it will pass off and not be caught, and for this reason mill men that are not aware of the fact have contrived some obstruction by cutting the plates and placing them so like thin ice over little waterfalls and eddies, thereby to disturb the straight course for freedom. In all cases the time allowed the gold particle to pass the length of the plate, or plates, is too short, for on a straight surface like the common amalgamating plate there is no obstruction offered, no turning or twisting or falling to force the particles of fine gold and gold to touch the plate. The Turtle Shell Gold Saver if placed on the plate in proper shape needs no expert to do, but can be performed by a ten-year-old boy, will so retard, twist and turn the crushed material as it comes from the battery that every particle of matter as it flows over the plate must come in contact with the mercury.

It has been repeatedly shown and demonstrated by the geologists of Georgia and treated of in their reports, that there are many belts of a decomposed auriferous mica-schist, containing quartz stringers which frequently carry considerable gold, making the entire gold belt a low grade ore body, which when worked intelligently will yield a very fair average return.

While the extravagant idea of flooding the ore through a flume, from the open cut to the mill, can be operated at a cost of from 12 to 15 cents per ton including the cost of milling, yet so much of the gold is lost by this process, unaided by some device that will recover the minute particles of fine gold carried off by the water and pass over the plates. Now the desideratum has been invented and patented and is called by the inventor The Turtle Shell Gold Saver.

The mechanism and device is based on scientific principles and any old sluice miner will readily recognize its worth, he being either miner or only a common mine laborer, and either can handle it with success. We predict that it will revolutionize gold mining all over the world and thousands of abandoned mines will be made valuable when this appliance shall be used to save the gold. The whole of the auriferous apron belt of Georgia can now be mined with success and millions of dollars saved to the country.

W. L. ALLBRIGHT.

And this is what we have to say in reference to it after having given it a careful investigation. The possibilities and probabilities for this invention are great. The gold mania has taken possession of the entire world and the question how to extract the precious metal from its matrixes and gangues is puzzling the miner and scientist of today. Nature generally gives hints how to solve difficult problems within itself and in case the hint has been taken advantage of will prove a grand success. To look over the vast fields where gold is now mined one becomes impressed with the possibility that may be expected in a financial way from a good and cheap gold saving device. The South has many stamps and it will be quite an item to get the mills of Georgia, North Carolina, Alabama, South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, but it is the West, Northwest, Southwest, South Africa, Australia, Canada, Mexico and all of South America that will furnish the business. The Black Hills have the Father De Smit and the Homestake mines each of which have a thousand stamps and Alaska the Treadwell with a thousand stamps. Then there are hundreds of mills in California, Idaho, Nevada, Colorado, Arizona and other Western States that have a hundred stamps a piece, say nothing of thousands of smaller mills. It seems to us that this device will be of special benefit to the small mills that cannot afford, and it would not pay them to attach expensive machinery to their plants. It appears to us that the hazards of gold mining will be lessened to such an extent by the Allbright Gold Saver, that many mines and mills will resume operation that heretofore were unprofitable because they could not save the fine gold, and many new ones will spring into life.

We predict that if this is properly introduced and managed, it will prove the greatest gold mine in the world to the inventor.

We learn from a reliable source that the mining operations of this section stand you $1.00 and we will give you a correct report for 12 months through the columns of the NUGGET.

Rev. J. E. Benard, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Anniston, Ala., baptised 200 candidates by immersion, a few Sundays ago in 57 minutes. The revival had been running 36 days in which 500 were converted. Two years ago he took charge of this church with only 180 members. To-day his church has a membership of 800. Preacher Benard is different to Sam Jones. He has something to show for his work, while Sam can't even produce a color.

DALHONOGA, JULY 5, 1901

Col. Baker visited Atlanta this week.

The coolest thing in town. "Matthews Popular Point."

Try "Matthews" Diarrhoea and Dysentery Remedy and be relieved.

The hot weather will make the lower country people flock to Porter Springs, and cause every thing to be quite lively up at this most favorite summer resort.

We are requested to state that the funeral of John McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reubin McDonald, will be preached at Macedonia in this county on the second Sunday in August.

The Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway Co. have been given 90 days from June 21st, by the council of that city in which to begin work and 18 months in which to complete a street railway system in Gainesville.

The aged mother of Greely Roberts, col., died last Monday morning after a very short illness. On the day previous to her death the old woman dropped while in the act of taking up dinner and never recovered. Paralysis was the cause. She was a good woman and was highly respected by both white and black.

The bids for the building of the girls dormitory of the N. G. A. College were received by the committee and opened last Saturday, as follows: J. T. Sargent and Will Rickett, $9,995.75; W. H. McAfee, $14,070.50; Lewis Keith, $4,002.50; J. N. DuPre, $5,299.00. The contract was awarded to Sargent and Rickett. To be completed by 1st of January.

The oath administered in Georgia to tax payers by receivers is a long one, and if an officer were elected who stuttered he would have to resign on account of being unable to ever get through with it. A man has to be long winded as it is. Such an oath as it is all bosh. It consumes time and does not help to increase taxable property a cent. If a person means to swear a lie about his returns he had just as soon swear a long one as a short one.

You will find notice of tax receivers last rounds in another column. The receiver intended having it appear in the NUGGET last week but we failed to get it. He directed his letter to the Signal with instructions to hand the notice to us, (thinking that we would accommodate his like we had them with a former notice) but they did not see proper to do so. Hereafter we will go according to the present foolish rule: Do unto others as they do unto us.

Auraria district had three deaths last week, being Mrs. Elizabeth Perry, Cal. Wilson and John Chapman. Mrs. Perry is the wife of Mat. Perry who went to California some forty or fifty years ago and is said to still be living. Why he never returned we do not know. Wilson has been troubled with dropsy about a year and the poor fellow passed away while sitting in a chair. And Chapman is a son of Bud Chapman who was killed down at Birch Bros. boat last year, by accident.

As the Signal man is always harping on having such a big patronage and such choice reading matter, there is a way to get at better proof. People are not supposed to take a paper and patronize it like they do the NUGGET unless it is worth reading and to their interest to insert their ads. in it. Now the citizens here know that the NUGGET is the most popular paper and in order to convince stragglers of this fact we will make this proposition to the Signal editor or owner: We will place in any one's hands one hundred dollars as a forfeit against $25 and if we haven't got a larger list of subscribers and have had for many months than the Signal we can take the money, the fact to be left to the postmaster at Dahlonega who weighs the papers every week. Put up or shut up.

Col. Farrow was down this week with an electrician having his telephone line to Porter, which was damaged by a storm recently, repaired and put in better shape than ever before.

The 12th inst. is our birth day and if we live to see the time we want to put the pig pot into the little one, kill egg and fry coffee, have chicken and dumplings, drink spice wood tea and have a big time generally.

The mail rider brings the news that David Mauldin, of Union county, died suddenly from a pain in his side last Tuesday. Lee Gilbreath, one of Unions oldest citizens, also died in that county last week.

It was first reported here that Fred Bell, son of Mark Bell, was killed by lightning at Cleveland last Friday. But we since learn that Col. Joe Underwood's barn was struck, his horse killed and its owner and one or two others shocked.

Old Uncle Dick Anderson is in trouble. He took a bath in the ditch last Sunday and forgot to take off his specks and the glasses that have been guiding him in dark places for many long years are now somewhere in the bottom of that canal.

J. W. Wofford, who has been in the employ of the Consolidated Co. for more than a year left for Spring Place, Ga., last Wednesday. Mr. Wofford is an engineer and was very attentive to his business. He goes away highly recommended by his employers and those having business relations with him.

The 4th was very quiet here. No public demonstration took place of any kind. One of the aldermen had laid in a lot of fire works but as neither the mayor or mayor pro tem are here to give the boys permission to discharge them. Mayor Price has been telephoned to in Atlanta for permission to shoot but has not been heard from as we go to press.

A pool will be built at once at the new Baptist church, which, when completed will end all bap-tizings in the creek as has been the custom here ever since the inhabitants of the town.

A Stroke of lightning struck one of the pipe lines on Crow Mountain Monday and shocked one of the hands slightly. Electric storms are frequent and some one is shocked in Dahlonega nearly every week.

We met for the first time last Monday, J. C. Quillian of the firm of Quillian & Bros., Belton, Ga. Mr. Quillian, his wife and Miss Rose, his sister, have just returned from an extended trip to the mountains of North Carolina for the purpose of restoring their health.

The price of corn and fodder in Dahlonega for the past few months should be an inducement for boys to go from the town to the country instead of leaving the farms and coming to town. Last Monday L. Jackson, of White county, brought a load of a little more than 500 bundles of fodder which realized him $14.63. Boys, give more attention to farming.

Out at Hickory Grove last Sunday Charley Longstreet, col., of Gainesville, had a row with Joe Thompson about Lewella Meyers, a colored girl of Dahlonega. Charlie had rode all the way from Gainesville to escort the lover of his heart to church and when he got there her company was engaged to Joe, making the disappointed lover so mad that he threw their diners away but Joe thought more of the girl than dinner, and swung to her.

The board of education of Lumpkin county met last Tuesday and disposed of such business as was before it. The schools were ordered to be opened on the 15th. R. E. Ward takes charge of the Batz school formerly taught by a lady who is now teaching in Dawson county. J. W. West was appointed trustee in place of W. W. Scott, deceased, and the commissioner was instructed to issue licenses to eleven applicants having stood the examination—4 first grade, 4 second and 1 third, was about all that was done of interest.

A very enthusiastic railroad meeting was held at the court house here last Saturday afternoon, attended by quite a large number of citizens. Addresses were delivered by Gen. Warner, Judge Murray and Col. Charters in the interest of the proposed line, showing the great benefits that would be derived from the enterprise in a nutshell so that all could thoroughly understand. Gen. Warner said he felt confident that he could get northern capitalists interested in it. Our citizens were asked to help only as far as they feel able, no portion of the money being due until the line is completed and the cars running on same. Over $4,000 were subscribed on the spot, making nearly $9,000 already raised, including the amount heretofore subscribed and paid in most of which has already been spent in surveying, etc. The solicitation of subscriptions will still be continued and every enterprising citizen who has the welfare of his town and county at heart is expected to give something. Of course there are people here like there are in all other places, would like to see the road constructed provided some one else will build it, but are too stingy to give anything themselves, some of them being so close-fisted that if they knew for certain that they could ride to heaven by a direct way for 25 cents had rather take their chances in getting a free seat with somebody else or take it a foot.

The price paid for corn in Dahlonega varies so that it is a hard matter for us to keep the farmers posted. Some times the price reaches a dollar. It depends upon its scarcity.

The number of inmates in the jail has been reduced to two again, Bud Blackwell, charged with assault with intent to murder having made bond last Friday for his appearance at the next term of the superior court.

Only those of our citizens, we guess, supposed to have any money were invited to convene in the court house last Friday evening for the purpose of hearing Mr. Carter, who has just established a private bank in Dahlonega, explain the conduct of one.

The rain which visited a portion of Wahoo district in this county last week was very destructive. Some of the farmers had just finished working out their corn when the storm came and washed much of it entirely away. Fortunately the streak of rain was narrow.

Col. R. H. Baker has again been appointed U. S. Commissioner without opposition. This alone is sufficient evidence that he has discharged his duties well and faithfully, treating both friend or foe alike while acting in an official capacity. U. S. Deputy Marshal D. M. Grizzle has also been reappointed and the same can be said of him.

W. H. Courtney, of Pleasant Retreat, Ga., while spending a day or two in the city last week called on the NUGGET office and strengthened the financial condition of ye editor by paying for two years subscription in advance. Mr. Courtney is conducting a mine in that county for Judge Reeves, of Athens, Ga., and his long practical experience in mining enables him to get good results.

Last Friday morning the citizens in one whole end of Dahlonega were alarmed by the noise made by a certain man and his wife who were fighting. We would give their names but the matter has not reached the courts yet, and are not likely to as we believe that it has been the custom for the city authorities to let a woman go free who has been unfortunate enough to get hold of a man for a husband so sorry that he can be whipped by a female.

Sheriff Davis in company with Will Rice went out into the country the other day and after remaining a couple of days made six arrests, all of whom gave bond. Some of the parties lived in Dawson county and had got in to a riot by attending a box supper in Lumpkin some time ago. The parties arrested were, Will Mincey, Zeb Mincey, Jim Mincey, Alfred Forester, Henry Cain and Jack Lingerfelt. All being charged with being connected with the riot except Lingerfelt.

Some of the farmers of this county are opposed to any railroad being built to Dahlonega because they think it will reduce the price of their products. They don't take into consideration what they lose on their produce caused by a railroad will be made up in the reduction of goods which they have to purchase. Some of you farmers will haul your corn and sell it at Dahlonega because you can get a good price for it and then take the money and go to a railroad town and purchase such articles as you need in another county because you can get them cheaper. And a few others charge the company as much for a right of way through their farms as they return the whole lands for taxes. You should look at this question seriously and do all you can to help build up your county. A railroad will increase the population largely and reduce taxes considerably.

W. B. Fry is enlarging his residence on Park street.

Mayor Price has returned from his two weeks visit to Atlanta.

The seventeen-months-old girl of Tom Johnson died in Dahlonega last Sunday.

A heavy hail and rain storm passed through Crumby, Shoal Creek and Wahoo districts last Monday, sweeping many fruit and other trees in its path.

Last Saturday while Henson Chapman was coming to town in a buggy his horse ran away, painfully injuring him, but we are glad to say that he will soon be all right again.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Thomson returned from a few days outing across the Blue Ridge first of the week where they enjoyed themselves fishing for the beautiful speckled trout.

A horn snake was killed by C. N. Head, of this county the other day, measuring more than five feet. It reached clear across the road and was the largest snake of any kind ever seen in this county.

It will be seen by a notice elsewhere that the directors of the G. & D. Electric Railway Co. have a meeting in August with a view of authorizing the issuing of seven hundred and fifty-thousand dollars worth of bonds.

W. H. Courtney proposes to give $10,000 if the company will extend the electric line up into White county. This may be done some time in the future as White is a good farming county saying nothing of her rich minerals and abundance of good timber and splendid water power.

Asbury Porter and Henry Mote had a little twist up in Yahoola district the other day. Porter is a miller and Mote had accused him of taking too much toll which caused the collision, and when the former commenced opening his pocket knife with his teeth the latter tore loose and made a safe retreat.

John Wehnt was in the hands of the sheriff last Saturday for a while on a warrant sworn out by J. T. Miller, of Auraria, charging him with getting goods under false pretense. As Squire Allen was sick and Squire Worley being absent and no one having authority to try him here the case was compromised and John went home happy.

Notwithstanding Col. Price has ordered his NUGGET, and two others paid for by him discontinued this week, the paper will still continue its weekly visits as heretofore. The Colonels actions in this matter will have no more effect on the progress of the NUGGET than the dipping of a persons finger in a tub of water. While he goes out three times as many come in this week as follows: Zeke Blackstock, John Barker, W. K. P. Head, Dahlonega, Ga.; C. C. Bickel, Dr. G. W. Lowman, Nashville, Tenn.; G. A. Ferguson, Pleasant Retreat, Ga.; C. M. Merrick, Brighton, Pa.; Henry Dearth, New Holland, O.; J. C. Quillian, Belton, Ga.

During the storm last Friday Mrs. Tilda Findley's residence in Dahlonega was struck by lightning and considerably damaged. The chimney in the south end was destroyed and mirrors of bureaus and everything else of this nature in two rooms were broke into hundreds of pieces except two lamps on a table by a water pitcher. The pitcher was busted and the lamps uninjured. Rev. J. E. Blackburn had just finished painting the up stairs room and sit down in a chair to rest when the bolt came, knocking off all the ceiling in the end of the room except two or three pieces. The painter was struck by the end of a plank on the forehead, cutting a gash to the skull about two inches long, stunning him so that he had to be carried home in a buggy, but is all right now. Mrs. Findley was in the dining room at the time and escaped being injured. The damages amount to seventy-five or a hundred dollars.

Mining Notes

Another big mining trade is on foot in Lumpkin county which means much for the entire section if it takes place.

Both the Louisville, Ky., gentleman—one a banker—here last week made an investment in the gold fields of Lumpkin county, and we trust that they will reap a rich harvest.

To-day (Friday) is the day fixed for the stockholders of the Consolidated Company to meet here for the purpose of authorizing the issuing of bonds not to exceed $175,000, in order for them to go on with their development work and settle off all outstanding claims against the Company.

The Consolidated Co. have an opportunity of getting something opened up on some of their property if they wish. We heard an old native miner say no longer than last Saturday if they would give him and another man one dollar and a half a day each that they would open a vein on the Barlow property as good as the Findley chute. This looks to us like a fair proposition.

The last clean up at the Calhoun mine was a splendid one as usual. Mr. Whorton Anderson, the superintendent, is not working the mine for his health or for a show, but for the purpose of making money which any one visiting the mine can very readily see, for he has some of the best miners in the county—few in number—whose experience is worth more to their employer than fifty or a hundred of those claiming to be miners who have only passed through some mining state or section on the cars.

Mr. Mayne has ceased his prospecting work in this county and the laborers he had employed are thinking hard of him because he has failed to pay them for their work, a boarding house keeper having also been left in the same condition. No man should endeavor to develop gold mines or do anything else without having money to pay his laborers, and we hope no one else will ever try it in this county again. The men were led to believe that they would get their money. Now they can't secure it because Mr. Mayne possesses nothing in this country, and not very much in any other, we don't expect. We like to see Englishmen visit our section when they have money enough to pay their way.

The Crown Mountain stock has nearly all been sold, and in a short time now the entire plant will be in running order. Twenty of the stamps of the big mill were already in position last Sunday. The works of this company are attracting the attention of the people both at home and abroad, and it is the universal opinion of all that the mine will pay handsome dividends. They have the most modern machinery that can be procured, and really it looks like it is impossible for the least bit of gold to escape. J. L. Davis, a placer miner who has made good wages in working below some of the mills, catching the lost gold, said to us last Sunday if he had no other place to work except below the Crown Mountain plant he would perish to death.

Development work down on the Standard property still continues with good results under the supervision of Thomas Ray. He opened up two more good veins last week making five he has now for inspection running parallel with each other which its owners have never seen. Mr. Ray is engaged this week in clearing out the old Dahlonega shaft in the bottom of which is a large vein about eight feet thick worth $3 per ton. So he says. Mr. Ray has heretofore examined it, and certainly knows for he has been at work down in that neighborhood for the past fourteen years, and is the only native superintendent the company has kept in its employ. He is thoroughly acquainted with the formation of the mines and the different veins, and earns every cent allowed him.

THE MARK OF CAIN.

Carried by a North Carolinian
Who Shot His Brother.

By request of a lady of Lumpkin county we republish an account of the hairless man of North Carolina which appeared in a paper in 1888. The man was seen by a citizen of this county not many years ago. Read it. It will interest you.

A few days ago Terry Shelton was brought from North Carolina to Georgia upon a warrant sworn out in Fannin county.

As he boarded the car having come several miles through the country, the idlers at the country station stared hard at the strange man, and wondered who he was.

The passengers looked once, and looked again, and wondered who he was.

At every station, as new passengers came in they would stop,
and stare, and wonder.

"Who is that man?"
"What's the matter with him?"
"Did you ever see the like?"

It was that way everywhere.
The babies even seemed to understand that something was wrong and they stared too.

Not once during the ride did the strange man leave his seat—never once lifted his eyes from the floor.
His broad-brimmed hat was slouched down to his eyes, his hands thrust into his pockets of his blue jeans trousers, and there he sat.

"Who is that man?"
"What's the matter with him?"
The strange man is Terry Shelton, and the mark he carries is the mark of Cain. That was nine years ago, the murder was in 1879.

Human judges have declared him an innocent man, and human justice has meted him life and health, but the mark is there.
Maybe, as Shelton himself says,
the judge that branded Cain has branded him, and the mark will go with him to his grave.

The story was told here yesterday by one familiar with the details, a North Carolinian that has known Shelton for years.

"Terry and Tom Shelton," said
the yesterday, "were brothers.
Their father was an educated man and a wealthy one, but he died in the war and the boys have been brought up by their mother."

She was a horrible woman—a tigress. The property of the old man was squandered and lost, and the boys grew up vicious and uneducated. Tom was the elder.
They both married, and lived on adjoining farms in Cherokee county. Their mother lived first with one and then the other.

The boys were hard workers and shrewd in a trade, so in spite of their dissolute habits they might be considered as well-to-do farmers.

One day in 1879 Tom went over to Terry's house, and while he was there they began quarreling. The mother of the two boys stood in the door and watched. Suddenly both springing to their feet, Tom with a knife and Terry with a pistol, and an instant later Terry died. The ball went through Tom's forehead, killing him instantly.

Terry told this to the jailer.
"I had an empty barrel in that cylinder and thought that would be the next one to be struck. I intended to snap that at Tom to stop him, and then if he came further to kill him. I didn't intend to shoot. It was a mistake, and I am not guilty of murder."

On the trial, however, the old woman swore in Terry's favor, put all the blame on the dead son, and as she was the only witness Terry was acquitted.

Three weeks later she came back to town and wanted Terry arrested.
She said that Terry had provoked the quarrel and that the murder was cold blooded.

It was too late for that.

Terry Shelton went to Alabama,
then came to Georgia, and went back to North Carolina to escape punishment for crimes committed there.

I saw him when he first came back to North Carolina. When he had left his head was covered with a magnificent growth of curly brown hair. He was very proud of it, and even in jail used to sleep it well combed. He had a thick, heavy beard and long mountache.

When he came back there was not a hair on his body. His hair, beard and moustache were gone.
There was no sign of eyelash or eyebrow, and his body was as free from hairs as the palm of your hand.

The effect was startling. "It would frighten you to look at him.
The skin was natural and healthy in color and condition, but absolutely bare."

"I could hardly recognize him even after he had spoken to me."
"Where is your hair?" I asked him. "I am marked," he said quietly.

"How do you mean?"
"By the Almighty, just as Cain was marked."

"Was it all taken out at once?"
"No, it was pulled out, one hair at a time. It took eighteen months to get it all out."

"One hair out at a time," I repeated after him.

"Yes, my brother's ghost did it.
Whenever I sat down he sat behind me and began pulling them out. When I went to bed I could feel him plucking them out one at a time. It lasted that way for eighteen months, and it nearly killed me. No way to stop it. I was absolutely powerless."

"Did you do anything for it?"
"All that could be done. The doctors say there was no blood disease, no skin disease. They tried everything they could to save my hair, and to restore what was lost, but they did no good."

"Do you still do anything for it yet?"

"No, it is God's own mark and God can only take it away. Everywhere I go now people point me out. Those that know me tell their children that I killed my brother, and their children will tell their children's children.
Those that don't know me stare and wonder. Somehow or other it makes people distrust me. It will be so, I suppose, until I die.
It is Cain's mark."

"It didn't reform him, then?"
"No. He tries to reform sometimes, but it does no good. He wanders around, and always in trouble. The people in our country believe as firmly as Shelton does that the mark is a curse that will go with him through life. The man is a Cain, and that is Cain's mark."

Lemons, lemons, demons at Matthews.

Come to Dahlonega if you wish to enjoy a cool breeze during the day and sleep comfortable at night.

The postoffice inspector examined the Dahlonega office while here on other business last week and found it conducted all right.

We understand that Prof. Martin, principal of the Dahlonega public school, will move his mother to Dahlonega and locate here.

Porter Springs is getting to be a lively place now. The extreme hot weather below is causing visitors to rush to the mountains.

It seems to be a hard matter for the postoffice inspectors to find any trace of the registered letter which was lost in this county some months ago.

A. S. Wheelchel, of New Bridge, has been liberal enough to give the railroad a right of way through his property and an acre of land
besides for a depot.

The Lumpkin county veterans association, which convened in Dahlonega on the 4th, was not very well attended. Those able to work were making hay while the sun shined and too busy to come.

The Signal man need not fret about our liberal advertising. If the party he refers to last week has closed up temporarily and wishes pay for his ad. to run on in the Nugget it makes no difference to us.

A white female fortune teller resides between Dahlonega and the Hand mine, and both young men and young ladies are visiting her place of abode in order to hear of what is going to become of them in the future.

Do you want a railroad? If so give something. Don't stand around and gape and long for one and when an opportunity is offered let some one else put up the cash.
It will increase your business and you should be willing to contribute a small amount of the profits you will make or gain by a railroad.

Remember that the ones who are soliciting your help do not get a cent for their services. Another thing we wish to mention in connection with this matter: It has been said by some that the railroad talk was just to boom Crown Mountain stock. This is not the case. Crown Mountain stock is about all gone.
The promoters of the railroad to Dahlonega are spending their own money—four of them having already spent nearly $4,000. They have confidence in this needed enterprise and mean business.

"Lime-ade," cool and refreshing
at Matthews popular food.

The little boys got permission to shoot their fire-crackers on the night of the 4th, which was much better than day time on account of there being no teams to scare.
No one was hurt in any manner and everything passed off pleasantly.

We have just been headed an interesting report of the Edgar Union Mines, at Idaho Springs, Colorado. The ore is rich and very plentiful, giving splendid results. Edward Peacock, well known in Dahlonega, has been in charge of these mines for the past six or eight months, and we are all glad to hear of his successful operations.

The blind tiger parties dealing in liquor in Dahlonega certainly make a big profit on their goods.
They buy blockade corn liquor at from one to one-dollar and a quarter per gallon and retold it for 85 cents per quart, and rye whiskey costing only $2.00 per gallon is sold at $4.00. They would certainly get rich if they didn't drink up most of the profit.

DON'T WAIT.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little residual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are filling graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a happy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit women for every duty of life.

Miss Della M. Strayer, Tulsa, Okla.: "I have suffered with pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything.
In fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with the result Black Drought, when needed, and to-day I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 12, 1901.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The number of fires in New York on the 4th caused by fire works was 35.

Judge Speer has issued an order releasing all U. S. prisoners from Bibb county jail until December.

Money due the state for the quarter ending June 30 by the different convict leases is $51,066.54.

Casualties on the Glorious 4th throughout the country: Dead 26; injured, 1,818, and fire losses $125,185.

The Montana train robbers who got away with so much express money last week have not been captured.

A white girl married a Chinaman in Elbert county last week. It's true that love works in many mysterious ways.

Old Mrs. Nation started out on a tour again the other day with her hatchet but was brought to a halt by being arrested.

It may be that the city of Athens will succeed in getting their negro postmaster out of office. They are making a hard fight for it.

Gen. Bellarmio, an insurgent leader, was forced to surrender to the second U. S. infantry on the 5th. He gave up 1,000 men and 284 guns.

Gainesville is like all other "dry towns," has blind tigers. Another one opened out there recently in connection with a restaurant, dealing out rye liquor at $1 per quart.

Judging from the tone of the Atlanta papers that city presents a perfect winter scene and is the coolest place on earth, while most other places are almost scorched from the rays of the hot summer sun.

The Farmers in some parts of Missouri are being annoyed by snakes. It is claimed that one killed recently contained six chickens and a door knob, showing that a small man is in danger of being swallowed by them.

The town of Whizham, Ga., has passed an ordinance forbidding the sheriff of the county from invading its corporate limits to arrest a prisoner charged with committing a crime in its limit, although armed with a process of law.

Charbon is killing hundreds of cattle in Mississippi causing much alarm among the people as the cattle die faster than they can be buried or burned, causing the atmosphere to be poisoned by the fearful stench. Several persons have already died from the disease.

The postmaster general has just awarded two of the Macon cotton mills the contract of furnishing 160,000 pounds of tying twine. The total price to be paid for each 80,000 pounds is $15,000. Hereafter the twine was manufactured of jute in the north. This should be very encouraging to the southern manufacturers.

There seems to be a decrease in the foreign mission funds sent off by the North Georgia Conference for the quarter just ending, being only $2,000.01. Gainesville district sent $56.41 cents of this amount. We are glad to report this decrease and hope that we may see the time when not a dollar will be sent off in this manner. There is ample places to use it right at home.

There will be no rush for the Comanche lands. A lottery scheme will take the place of the old time rush. Persons wishing to make and entry will have to register either at Lawton or Reno before the 26th inst., so they can draw on the 6th of August, at the time the opening begins. A suit will be entered in a few days by C. P. Johnson, of Oklahoma City, to try to prevent the opening, in behalf of the Indians.

Choice street has received some attention after so long a time, but little expense to the town, however.

Hon. C. D. Bruce, of Dahlonega, will leave to-morrow or first of next week to visit his mother in Oklahoma who he has not seen for five years. While there he expects to register and make an effort to get a slice of the territory to be opened out on the 6th of August.

On Monday night Sheriff Davis and Will Rice went up and arrested Jim Lee next to the mountains. Jim is charged with whipping his wife some time ago, causing her to leave him. But since that time they made it up and are now living, or were when arrested, as happily together as they when first pronounced man and wife.

The depot of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railway will likely be located near The Crown Mountain mill in what used to be known as the old Boyd field. It is beautiful, level, and a nice place for many buildings. The next depot after leaving Dahlonega will be at M. M. Londons, about six miles distant, on Long Branch, being a splendid location for people for many miles in different directions. This was decided upon by those interested last week, that is the one at Londons, and satisfactory arrangements made with Mr. London.

On Tuesday night last the residence which Jack Townsend occupied down at Winny's mill, belonging to the Consolidated Co., was destroyed by fire, together with its entire contents. How it originated is not known as there was no one present except three little children, the oldest just five years old. Jack had gone to his work in the mines and their mother had left them and visited town, more than a mile away. The light was observed by people in town, and by the time any one could get there the kitchen roof was falling in. The little boy was crouched behind one of the room doors suffering from the extreme heat while the other two children were under a bed. In a little while longer they would have been licked up by the fiery tongue of the angry flames. It was certainly a narrow escape for these little children.

Some of the citizens of Cane Creek district are very indignant because Corner McGuire went up in company with a doctor and a bailiff and held an inquest over the body of James Beck last Saturday when he was not sent for, and there was not a doubt in the minds of any one but what the boy came to his death by accident. The law does not intend for inquests to be held over all people killed, as has been decided by the Supreme Court in 50th Ga., but still in some cases it is obligatory with the official. The coroner receive $10, besides that allowed the attending physician and bailiff and if the former loves money well enough to authorize the holding of an inquest he can do so often when it is unnecessary, but the county is not always responsible for the expenses. A number of men went off to keep from serving on the jury, leaving the physician and four others to act.

A short time ago while Geo. Walker, of Lumpkin county, was leaving Ducktown to return home, he met two men who said that they were the bullies of North Carolina. One drew his pistol and told George to dance. He saw no chance to get out of it and commenced, giving a variety of steps, among them was the Old Yabooha Quick Step. This unpleasant task on George's part continued for about 20 minutes at the delight of the two strangers, when the actor told them that he was getting tired. "All right," they said. Then the one with the pistol commenced searching George's valise when the owner picked up a rock and knocked the man down, at the same time grabbing his pistol and the other fellow left at double quick speed with the balls flying fast after him. Then George resumed his journey.

Gen. A. J. Warner.

The following high compliment is paid to Gen. Warner by the Atlanta Constitution:

"The Constitution congratulates General A. J. Warner, late of Ohio, upon his wisdom in becoming a citizen of the state of Georgia. General Warner has established himself in Dahlonega, and declares his faith in the future of that section of Georgia. He has already secured the investment of much capital, and is now engaged in the promotion of an electric road from Gainesville to the thrifty little mountain city. He has other projects of like character, and to a man of his energy and capabilities there is great opportunity in the undeveloped resources of northeast Georgia. General Warner is a man of strong business instincts. He has about him none of the characteristics of the promoter, but is a genuine common sense business man, knowing a fact when he sees it, and capable of intelligently presenting it to others.

It is the mistake of a great many investors to leave their money in the south, and returning to their northern homes, to await the reports of agents. General Warner has set a good example by following his investment, and now with wife and family he has located himself in one of our militia districts, and proposes to watch the growth of his own capital.

This is why we congratulate him in a double sense that he has invested in Georgia property, and that he has become a citizen so as to give Georgia the benefit of his wise counsel."

Thermometer 108 in Kansas.

At Warm Springs, near a dozen person were poisoned by eating salad which had remained over night in tin cans.

The heat has been so severe in New York as to stop hundreds of watches by the main springs expanding and then contracting, causing them to break.

Heaven was entered by four more negroes. This time they went from Florida just after being hung last week. That is they said they were going and of course murderers can't be mistaken.

Lawrens county has eight capital cases: Eight men to be tried for murder, two for arson and one for assault. This is encouraging to the chain gang authorities who have been short of convicts for some time.

CORN.

Just received a car load of it at Burlington.

CITATION.

State of Georgia, Lumpkin County: Whereas, certain petitioners have made their application to this Court, praying for an order granting the establishment of a new road commencing at the "Cooper Gap Road" about one-fourth of a mile of Two Run post office in Lumpkin county, and running from thence the old road led a north, easterly direction to the Union county line at the "Ward Gap", and whereas commissioners appointed for that purpose have reviewed said contemplated road, and reported to me that said road will be one of much public utility and convenience. Now this is to cite and admonish all persons that on and after the 6th day of August, 1901, said new road will be granted if no good cause is shown to the contrary. Given under my hand and official signature, this the 3rd day of July, 1901. JOHN HUFF, Ord'y.

Joe, a son of James Abernethy, of Yaboo district, got one of his thighs broken the other day during a runaway.

The appraisers have just completed making an inventory of the estate of John Tate, deceased, and find that it amounts to near nine thousand dollars.

Henley Wimpy, while taking up some fodder in his arms out at his barn the other day discovered a pit-ot among it, scaring him so that he looks wild yet.

Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock the thermometer registered at 64 degrees. This shows what pleasant nights we are enjoying in Dahlonega.

Mrs. A. L. Wimpy has purchased a town lot from F. L. Reese adjoining Joseph Ferguson's on which she will have erected a nice comfortable residence for her own occupancy.

Mrs. J. B. Coffman, of Jackson, Ga., mother of Mrs. M. C. Martin, of Dahlonega, is here on a visit and will probably spend a month or two being so delighted with our pleasant mountain breezes and healthy climate.

It is a pleasure for any one to visit the Crown Mountain works. No guard stands there with a big pistol and a bully to heat you off and no signs of "keep off the grass" can be seen anywhere. The sights are free to all.

A bolt of lightning struck Lige Beck's front gate in Dahlonega last Sunday afternoon, knocking the palings in every direction. Mr. Beck and his family being in the back porch at the time were only slightly shocked.

Commercial drummer Elliott was right sick on his trip this week. Several others who dined with him at the Arlington, down at Gainesville were in the same condition. It is supposed that the chicken which they ate had the cholera.

The other day a certain woman sent for a physician in this county to come at once for she was dying. The doctor was soon at his destination and after finding that she had drunk between a pint and a quart of corn liquor got into his buggy and returned home, leaving nature to do its work.

Try "Matthews" Diarrhoea and Dysentery Remedy and be relieved.

Mrs. Mary Wilkins died in Yaboo district recently aged about 57.

Blackberries are ripe causing great rejoicing among the country editors.

The cholera is playing havoc with some of the people's chickens in Dahlonega.

Will Hatfield, formerly of Dahlonega, but now of Monticello, is up on a visit to relatives.

Joe Nath Wilkins was married in Yaboo district last Sunday to Miss Polly Ann Walden, daughter of Sol Walden.

Little Bob Daniels was bitten by a pilot last Tuesday on an arm making him quite sick until relieved by the proper treatment of Dr. Head.

Remember that the tax receiver of Lumpkin county is here and will close his books to-morrow (Saturday) and you will get left if you fail to return your taxes.

Mrs. W. S. Wilson, of Baltimore, a daughter of Col. Price, arrived in the city last Friday together with all her children except, one son who remained at home with his father.

Those having cattle will do well to keep them up in town, councilmen and all. The law has not been repealed. The marshal made a search the other night but did not find any at that time.

John Sullins and Goodman Sullins, two brothers residing in Shoal Creek district, collided about a beel screw worth just a nickel, and fought until they were separated by two old ladies the other day.

If the proposed new road is established from near Two Run in this county to Union it will shorten the distance from Dahlonega to that county and be the means of increasing our trade. Let it be built by all means.

There are but very few persons the railroad will not benefit. A railroad to Dahlonega will reduce the price of flour and every one eating biscuits can afford to take more and larger ones when the iron horse reaches here.

The question as to who owns the street desired by the city council through the old Tan Yard has been left for the investigation of a committee from that body who will determine whether it belongs to the city or Capt. Ingersoll.

What tools Mr. Mayne had for prospecting purposes near Auraria were sold by a constable last Saturday in favor of some laborers who had been at work for him. The property was opened up all right but "his men" never arrived to take it.

A writ of lunacy was placed in the hands of Sheriff Davis last Tuesday for a colored woman in Martin's Ford district named Mote. He and Will Rice went over after her but found that she was two sick and weak to stand the trip to town and they had to come off and leave her.

Eli Jones, a commercial drummer, well known in Dahlonega, was taken down sick while here on business last week which has developed into a case of typhoid fever. This is the only case of typhoid fever we know of in the place and we trust that the patient will soon recover.

Certain persons in Dahlonega should remember that there is a law which prevents cruelty to children as well as to animals. When you put your hand over a little one's mouth and whip it unmercifully you should think of this. We have known parents to have to pay heavy for such conduct.

Mat Groch, whose leg was amputated a few years ago, goes on crutches and hoes corn every day. This shows what an industrious person can do.

Our friend Dunk Hollifield endeavored to make farming comfortable during the hot days by carrying a chair to the field in which he rested his weary limbs whenever he got hot in a shade.

Our friend Homer Strickland is up on a visit from Swainsboro to his parents here for the first time in a couple of years. Homer has a host of friends here who are always proud to see him.

P. B. Green and Rev. J. S. Arbuthnot, of Nashville, after spending some days in the city, returned to their homes latter part of last week after making an investment in the mines, which will cause them to visit Dahlonega frequently.

At the last meeting of the Lumpkin county veterans association a resolution was passed for them to hereafter bury their dead comrades in the honors of war themselves. Their next regular meeting will take place on the first Tuesday in October.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Chester request us to return their thanks through the columns of the Nugget to their numerous friends in Dahlonega for many kind favors extended to them during the sickness and death of their little girl recently.

Sam Jones and sister "Hatchet" Nations should join the revenue if they desire to do active service and come to Dahlonega and make a few raids with U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle up at the foot of the Blue Ridge, get a few cursings and learn life in the mountains.

A flask of liquor last Saturday caused a couple of persons coming to Dahlonega to be quite jolly and full of fun, having the appearance of a lovely couple just starting out on a bridal tour. No chemist has yet been able to tell what amount of fun there is in a bottle of liquor when put into a man and woman's hands on an occasion of this kind.

As a general thing the poorest parties through whose lands the proposed electric line from Gainesville to Dahlonega runs are more liberal in proportion to what they possess than those having more worldly possessions, some of whom do not care about any one else's condition just so they live well and prosper themselves. A very poor motto indeed.

An aged gentleman said the other day that the cause of religion in Dahlonega was losing ground every day and had been for a long time. Any one to go away and return could see a big change. You couldn't tell who belonged to the church by their actions, the only place to learn was to go to the church book. Many years ago Lewis Quilliam remarked, after remaining off for some time, that in "a hundred years the people would go back into heathenism. I can see a decided change in that direction since I left this country." It begins to look that way. Last Sunday night at the Methodist church the amen benches were all unoccupied and but four old faces could be seen in the house. There was quite a number of young people present but they occupied back seats—some of the girls and their escorts sitting close to each other court-ing while others were talking and laughing like they were at attending a Christmas tree.

Mrs. J. E. Blackburn is on a visit to her son in Bartow county.

Mrs. J. N. DeFree left last week for Gainesville on a visit to relatives.

Miss Lizzie Chapman, after a short visit to Dahlonega, returned to Cuba, Ga. last Sunday.

Mrs. J. F. Meaders and children, of Swainsboro, Ga., are here on a visit for some weeks. Mr. Meaders will join his family in a few days.

Last week Miss Polly Ann Walden, of Yaboo, district, killed a four foot rattler. This makes the fifth she has killed during her life. The lady is much braver than many men.

From what some of the property owners say the railroad survey through their lands is right on the main gold belt. Little singular that nothing was said about it before the survey was made.

Mrs. Vickery is now on a visit to relatives at Fortwell, while Prof. Vickery remains at Dahlonega engaged in hunting, fishing and taking other out door exercises so as to enable him to regain his health.

It is reported that a movement is on foot now to run a railroad from Cartersville via New Bridge, in this county on into South Carolina. If this is done it will be another great help to Lumpkin county.

A blockader Saturday evening brought in enough moonshine liquor to make several persons feel quite lively that night and the next day. We never knew it to fail on the regular monthly meeting of the temperance society in Dahlonega. But the meeting was postponed until next Sunday night and we suppose the liquor man will be here on time again.

B. G. Parks, an old graduate of the N. G. A. College, from Hall county, paid us a pleasant and profitable visit last Saturday. Mr. Parks, since leaving Dahlonega, has been attending the law department of the State University at Athens, and having completed his course recently will now hang out his shingle in Gainesville. Mr. Parks is a bright young man, full of vim and energy and we bespeak for him a prosperous future.

The stewards of the Methodist church had a special meeting last Sunday. They were getting behind considerably with their preacher, and the object was to try to raise his money more promptly. The minister ought to be paid well for his services for he has a hard undertaking in trying to get some people to heaven—for instance a member of the church who will tell a lie for the sake of making a dime.

Only recently we mentioned the death of Wm. Arrendate, son of F. L. Arrendate, who used to reside in Dahlonega. At that time it was unknown to us how he was killed. A letter from his father last week states that his son was struck by an elevator in a shaft of the Rock Creek Coal Mining Co., Texas, and only lived 36 hours after the accident. The young man was well known to us and we sincerely regret to learn of his sad death.

The Lumpkin county teachers' institute has been in session this week with an attendance of about a dozen teachers, although a very interesting program is being carried out, and as there are three lawyers and two preachers on it something both good and wise has been said, in addition to the able management of Prof. Colvin, the expert. Notwithstanding all this these institutes are more expensive than profit. The instructions these twelve teachers receive cost the state $25, and for the 137 counties in Georgia nearly $4,000. This is taken from the school fund. It is well enough for the teachers to meet and exchange ideas, but this could be done in a single day. As it is they are forced to attend these institutes and pay board for five days, none of them getting enough for teaching to be able to spare the money it takes to board them.

Mining Notes

Jim Hughes has charge of twenty-four hands down at the Betz mine doing profitable work.

Norrell and Miller are still moving right along with their placer digging down at the Brian Patch.

Among the nice lot of nuggets in the last clean up by Birch Bros. was one weighing a little more than half an ounce.

It is not likely that Capt. Ingersoll will be able to attend the Mining Congress on account of recent injuries received by a fall.

The tunnel being cut at the Findley mine has reached the length of about one hundred feet. They calculate to have to go another hundred before striking the chute.

The technical points of Crown Mountain electrical machinery are now being connected and the button will be touched and things set to moving within the next day or two.

Mr. Packard is getting down far enough in search of the Lawrence vein to make it interesting to him, the material being taken out now is worth about half a pennyweight to the pan.

Persons making an investment in mining property here or in any other country, should first develop it and then build a mill only of such capacity as is needed and at the most convenient place to the ore.

At the special meeting of the stockholders of the Dahlonega Consolidated Company last week a resolution was passed for the issuing of $175,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of raising enough money to pay off all the indebtedness of the company and to more fully develop their property.

J. B. Witt dropped in our office last Tuesday and had some rich rock to show us, not from the "Findley chute," but from the "Buffalo Mine" in Oglethorpe county, Ga. This mine is on the lead of the celebrated "Horn Mine" from which over $300,000 has been taken. Jim says there are 545 acres of it all in one body and thousands of tons of ore in sight. A good thing for the right man.

Since Tom Ray has been turned loose and not dictated by some two for a nickel so called miners, and told to go ahead and develop the Standard property, he has opened up at least fifteen good veins that will pay well free milling if not crushed under the supervision of a lot of know nothing high priced bosses who will "eat up" all the profits and much more.

Mr. Howe was in the city for a short while last week, who informed us that he was going right ahead with his mining work over in the edge of Hall county. He will commence soon the erection of a ten-stamp mill. He will later on have more stamps but expects to put them up at different places on the property, the ore being scattered so that it won't pay to locate them all at one place in order to have a "big mill." This is an evident fact that Mr. Howe understands his business. When you find a man who knows that it is cheaper to build mills, even they are small, convenient to the ore, you may put him down as a sensible miner.

The many nice nuggets found at the Calhoun mine at the recent clean up are very encouraging for it is an evident fact that there are several rich veins not far away. The cleans ups are always good, therefore cause no excitement in mining circles. There are several placer operations now in operation on the Calhoun property. Jake and Bill Beck are working on a vein worth $50 to the ton, and Keenan and Lemley started in a few days ago on sluicing a hill with a giant under a 40' head of pressure. Ground worth $1 per square yard on slate. Poston is still working at his rich place making big money. Mr. Whorton is not afraid of his property being worked out during his time.

He has given several miners an opportunity of working at various places, which is a benefit to the parties, himself and the country generally.

It is claimed now that the Hix Process, from a recent test of ore taken from the Knight vein, belonging to the Consolidated Co., turned out $20 per ton which only produced $2 a ton on their big mill. It was claimed before this plant was built that it would save 35 per cent of the gold in any kind of ore here. But it didn't do it. For most of the gold slipped from the greasy plates and off into the river, much of which is now being caught by Mr. Ashley's dredge boat. One cause of this was inexperienced men were brought here and put in charge of the mill who scraped the plates and gonged about until they ruined them, not catching scarcely enough gold to pay their big salaries, giving the country such a black eye that it will take a long time to overcome it. They didn't live here and cared nothing for the welfare of their employers or the country either. No doubt it was the fastest thing they ever had and was more of a pleasure trip to them than anything else, for it made them mad when they had to be pulled off from the company's test.

Oscar Roberts, Floyd Adams, Marion Edmonson and Jim Franklin were each fined one dollar and cost last Monday for taking a couple of chickens from the premises of Col. Lilly. They were all found by the marshal at 4 o'clock on Saturday night in the house formerly occupied by Roberts' father while one chicken was on the fire cooking. The other had been sold to merchant Smith for lard and salt with which to cook the other. They were all put into the calaboose and the stolen chicken fed to them for their breakfasts Sunday morning, not enjoying it much however. Mayor Price being absent and Col. Lilly, mayor pro tem being disqualified Dr. Jones, one of the aldermen, tried them. All entering a plea of guilty and the Doc tor fined them as light as he could conscientiously. Notwithstanding $80 is a pretty high price for two chickens, the boys should feel thankful in getting out even this light, for it is a chain gang offense. Roberts paid his fine and the rest are working their out. Let it be a warning to them.

Last Friday morning a wagon loaded with wood turned over on James Beck, the eighteen-years-old son of Asbury Beck, near Cane Creek law ground crushing his life out, where he remained until Saturday morning before being found.

Mr. Beck was in Dahlonega where they were to meet. After waiting nearly all day for his son he started home awhile before sundown, but instead of going home spent the night with Henry Duckett, little dreaming that his boy was lying a corpse not far away. Mrs. Beck and the rest of the family could not understand why neither returned, causing them to spend a restless night. When the father returned home in the morning, going a near way, he was not aware of his son's absence until he reached his family. This caused all to be alarmed and a search commenced. They followed the old road, the one the son was last seen traveling, being joined on the way by other searchers, and had not gone more than about a mile before Johnnie Ferguson discovered the sad sight. There lay the boy under a half cord of green wood which he had chained together to bring to town. One arm was resting under his forehead, and from all appearance death came instantly. The steers had pulled around a little ways and remained there all this time. The wagon was overturned while he was endeavoring to drive round a fallen tree, and no one had passed by. Coroner McGuire learning of it went up Saturday afternoon and after an investigation the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. We deeply sympathize with the parents in the loss of their son.

Cure Cold in Head.
Kermott's Chocolate Laxative Quinine, easy to take and quick to cure cold in head and sore throat.

THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH
Established at Head of Tennessee, Ga.

The Tennessee heads in Rabun Gap and passes down through a nice valley of land to the North Carolina line, a distance of six miles; at this point the hills close in to the river, and shut off the valley. From the Gap through the valley, to the North Carolina line the direction is north. To complete this valley, there flow in from the southwest side Betty's Creek, Taylor's creek, and Wolf Creek; from the northeast side there flow in several small streams and among them Mud Creek, on which is a beautiful water fall. In this direction the valley is about nine miles across.

Near the center of this valley is located the Baptist church, known as Dillard's meeting house. At this place a deed was made by Mr. James Dillard for a Baptist church and cemetery. The deed provided that in said church other denominations were to worship except on the days when the church was used by the Baptists. It is true that Gen. Miller had given a tract for a Methodist church just across the road from the Rabun Gap High School, but as said deed never went to record, it was lost sight of. This deed was given nearly seventy years ago by Gen. Miller, who owned a fine farm at the head of Tennessee river at Rabun gap, upon which he built a fine farm house, painted it white and it is known up to this time as the "White House."

At this place Dr. H. V. M. Miller, who died several years ago in Atlanta, spent most of his boyhood days.

The Methodist preached from year to year at Dillard's meeting-house, not having any church or organized society of their own up to the year 1876, when Rev. Geo. E. Bonner of the North Ga. Conference and Rev. W. A. Nelson, a Baptist evangelist of Henderson county, North Carolina, joined in protracted religious service at this church, which resulted in a gracious revival meeting. Many who were converted at this meeting joined the Baptist church and seventeen joined the Methodist church and these were organized by Rev. Mr. Bonner into a Methodist church. This was the first organized Methodist church on the head of Tennessee river in Georgia.

In 1876, Mr. Bonner was returned the Clayton Mission.

This church, Dillard's meeting house, was located in eight miles of where I was brought up and where in 1876, I attended a protracted meeting with Bro. Bonner. The Rev. J. V. Stipe was our presiding elder that year, and held a quarterly conference at Dillard's meeting-house, embracing the first Sunday in October. I accompanied him from Dahlonega to that place. On our way there Brother Stipe preached at Derick's on the Tallulah river, in the woods, where a church was afterwards built.

On Saturday at eleven o'clock we arrived at Dillard's meeting-house. Brother Stipe had requested me to preach at that hour. As I had never preached in that section, I was much embarrassed.

We had a fine congregation to talk to. I wish to relate the condition of the church-house. It was a good large building with two doors of entrance. It was weather-boarded and had the windows cut out but no lights in them. The benches were in a bad broken condition. Everything about the house was a state of neglect and disorder; and it was reported that the membership was also, to some extent, in a state of disorder, and they had not yet rallied from the state of war-times.

When we entered the stand it was a small affair, closed at one end, and scarcely large enough for two persons to sit on the seat comfortably, so I occupied the stand alone. While at secret prayer before service, I had it in mind to give the membership of the church a talk about the bad condition of their house of worship; but while at prayer I fully decided that if the members could worship in the house, I ought to be glad to preach the gospel to them, so I dismissed the thought of reproving them from my mind.

I well remember my text. It was Matthew, 7th chapter and 7th verse: "Ask and ye shall receive etc." At the conclusion three young people came up and knelt down for prayer, and were converted during the meeting. One of them, Mr. Taylor, afterwards, I learned, became a Baptist preacher.

That evening, I went to my mother's eight miles down the valley of the Tennessee river, and returned in time next day to hear Brother Stipe preach a great sermon on the chapter in Corinthians which has thirteen verses. A great congregation was present and much feeling among the people was manifested.

It was decided to continue the meeting during the week. Brother Stipe preached again at night, Monday morning he left for Dahlonega, and left the meeting in the hands of Mr. Bonner and myself. I was requested to preach every other day, which I tried to do. On Monday night there were a good many converts. Among the first, as I recollect, was my nephew, John Howard, of Rabun Gap. The services continued with interest from day through the week, and there were conversions every day. In closing up the service at the end of the week, we found that there had been sixty odd conversions; forty two of the number had given their names to become members of the Methodist church. I think as many of these as eight or ten were heads of families.

I have attended quite a number of revival meetings since 1843. This one, I think equaled any that I ever attended in its effects, at that time upon the people and in the results that have followed.

On Sunday, Rev. Mr. Bonner received these applicants into the church after due examination and the performance of the rites of baptism.

This revival service and the one the year before began quite a revolution in this beautiful valley at the head of Tennessee river. A revival has attended the religious service at this church every year since that time.

At present the membership of the church is between two and three hundred. The Baptist church has also been much improved, and its membership largely increased in numbers. Instead of one old rickety church-house, there are now two nice buildings. The Baptist have a nice church, sixty feet long, painted, and well finished up on the inside, at this location. A mile away, the Methodists have an excellent large church building, located near Rabun Gap High School.

At each of these churches, on the Sabbath, there is a large well-attended Sunday School, and preaching about twice a month at each church. The people turn out to these services and fill the house.

In 1876 there were many still-houses scattered among the hills surrounding this valley, and there was much drunkenness and immorality among the people. From that time till this, there has been a gradual growth and improvement among the people, from the oldest to the youngest, until the still-houses have all been removed, and now there is very little drunkenness among the people of that section, and Sabbath hunting has been abandoned.

The good influences here have been extended and felt by people beyond in the other settlements.

These good results have been brought about by the churches, and the Rabun Gap High School, which institution was planted there by Prof. W. A. Curtis, a Christian gentleman from Hayesville, North Carolina. He not only established the School but superintended the education of the students himself for 16 years. This school is still being carried on by educated Christian men and women, and has been a great factor in the reformation which has occurred among the people.

Prof. Curtis gave his personal attention and aided much in the remarkable revival of 1876, and by his personal influence, led many of his students to the cross and sound reformation. Prof. Curtis very kindly donated an acre of ground, being part of the plot of land which he owned at that place, on which to erect a Methodist church. At present he is publishing a clean weekly paper, The Franklin Press at Franklin, North Carolina.

From what I have learned of Rev. Mr. Nelson, he was a most excellent Christian gentleman. He died some two or three years ago at Hendersonville, North Carolina.

Rev. Geo E. Bonner also died in Atlanta several years ago. I became well acquainted with him in his Christian work. I thought him one of the kindest and best Christian men I ever met. In prayer I considered him possessing remarkable power, as much so as anyone I ever heard pray. In thinking it over, I often rejoice that I met him and had social intercourse with him, and the privilege of religious communion with him. I am made better by being with him.

I wish to add in conclusion, that a protracted meeting held here every year, has resulted in conversions and addition to the church of new members. I have attended some of these revival meetings.

Respectfully,
N. F. HOWARD, M. D.
Dahlonega, Ga.

One of the parties arrested by the sheriff of Lumpkin county recently has a pretty serious charge against him, as was shown to the recent grand jury. He was drunk at his mother's funeral, and it is stated that he cursed at the grave and told the minister after the corpse was let down "by G— enough has not been said about her. Pull her back again," which was done just to keep any more shameful conduct from taking place. If convicted Judge Estes will cause him to remember this act a long time. This looks very much like Mr. Quillians prediction is coming to pass.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 19, 1901.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

There is reported to be 1,000 lepers in the United States.

Another oil gusher came in Beaumont, Tex., last week, making the 16th gusher.

The Atlanta papers still make that city the coolest place in the whole section—96.

Many machinists are returning to work in Chicago and the strike is practically ended there.

Kentucky will make 23,000,000 gallons of whiskey this year and an exchange thinks that Mrs. Hatchet Nations has a great task before her.

The receipts from the war taxes from July 13, 1898 to May 3rd, 1901, amounts to $810,053,363.

The negroes held a convention in Jackson, Miss., the other day for the purpose of elevating morals.

A leading lawyer at Warm Springs convention said the Bible was the next important book to the Code in practice of law.

At the recent democratic state convention at Columbus, O., they refused to express confidence in Mr. Bryan and one of his pictures was trampled under foot.

Pension Commissioner Lindsey favors paying off pensioners quarterly but it will increase the work of the ordinaries so much that it is said the most of them oppose it.

Chairman English Police commission, Atlanta, desires to prepare for war in time of peace, by asking the city council to provide the police with six dozen new pistols.

Temperance people who buy liquor by the gallon for medicinal purposes will rejoice to know that Macon capital is putting in a plant for a distillery in South Carolina with a capacity of 600 bushels per day.

C. L. Kingsley committed suicide at Kingsley the other day and requested to be carried to the grave by colored pall bearers. He ought to have been planted by the side of some colored person who had gone on before.

At the recent county officers convention in Columbus a resolution introduced by Sheriff Nelms of Fulton county, was adopted endorsing a four-years term for all county officers. The next convention convenes in Atlanta.

The heat and drouth in Kansas and Missouri is becoming alarming. The farmers of these states have already lost $50,000,000 and unless rain soon falls the entire grain crop of the great west will be a total loss. Later.—Fine rains have fell and cooled Kansas.

The drouth is so great in Missouri that the governor has been petitioned to issue a proclamation calling for prayer for rain. How silly some people are. The Creator understands how to manage his own affairs and knows how to act without any suggestions from the people whatever.

At El Reno on the first days registration for lands 4,018 names were entered—193 women. The heat is intense but no serious suffering has yet occurred. It is estimated that 100,000 people can register before the 26th inst., the last registration date. There are lands for 13,000 people. Cattlemen have been put on notice to leave the reservation.

The Georgia Weekly Press Association at Athens had a very pleasant session. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: W. S. Coleman (an old Dahlonega college boy) of Cedartown, for president. First vice Miss Edna Cam, Quitman; Second vice J. W. Bivens, Cordele; Secretary, W. A. Shackelford, Oglethorpe; Treasurer, J. W. Anderson, Covington.

Mining Notes

Another rich strike has been made down at the Betz mine this week.

Work at both the Consolidated and Standard mines has been suspended for several days on account of a delay in their ammunition. They have ordered some from Gainesville and work will likely be resumed to-night or tomorrow.

It is reported that one of the Hix machines is now on its way to Dahlonega to be used by the Consolidated Co. Others say that it is one invented by Mr. Breyman. So we don't know what kind it is.

Work commenced on another mile and a half canal this week so as to put the Ash creek and a big branch into the main stream above the Crown Mountain plant, so as to give them all the power they may need for any purpose.

J. B. Witt's nice lot of ore recently taken from the big mine down in Oglethorpe county known as the Buffalo mine, never fails to interest all who see it and is going to attract the attention of mining men who want to make money. This mine, saying nothing of others which may later on be developed in that section, is a big thing—more than 546 acres all in one body. Just think for a moment what a great mine it will be when taken hold of properly. It is on the same lead of the celebrated Horn mine which produced more than $3,000,000 worth of gold. This is enough to encourage Mr. Witt and we trust that he will make many thousands of dollars out of the mine in which he is interested. He is liberal to his laborers, full of vim and energy and just the kind of a man we like to see prosper.

Last week the electric button was touched and the great pump of the Crown Mountain set to running, forcing the waters of the Chestatee river upon the top of the mountain more than 500 feet high for the purpose of robbing it of its precious metals, to the delight of the whole people of this country for all have the utmost confidence in the property as being one of the best mines in the state and is sure to benefit us all. It is under splendid management; in the hands of practical business men who have always been successful in every undertaking. The machinery has been selected and erected with great care as can be observed by any one with the least bit of business knowledge at the first sight of the plant. Then the mine is located in such a manner as to enable them to handle the ore at a very nominal cost.

President Warner and Manager Moore have employed home laborers almost entirely, who spend their money right in the town and county where it is earned, causing each and every one to feel a deep interest in the plant and in the welfare of those employing them. The mechanical work under the supervision of J. F. Sargent is most excellent. The machinist, Mr. Bruce, has performed his part well, and the electricians, Messrs. Catchings and Athey, must not be forgotten for they have carried out their duties in the lightning department to perfection, causing wonders. When the power was thrown on to the Huntington mill it moved off like clock work. Placer work has already commenced and before many more weeks the stamp mill will be completed and ready for the current to set it in motion. The starting of this plant attracted the attention of many of our citizens who went over to witness what they had never seen in this country, being the first time that electrical power has been introduced for the operating of gold mines in Lumpkin county. Really some couldn't be led to believe it. They didn't understand how little wires could transmit enough power fourteen miles to run all this gigantic machinery. When the button was touched and a great big sluice off water found its way into the reservoir on a mountain much higher than the city of Dahlonega all wonders ceased and each returned home feeling confident that this means much for the mining industry of Lumpkin and surrounding country, as we have many mines that cannot be worked for the like of convenient water power, that can be operated by electrical power secured many miles away at falls which have heretofore been useless. Our country now has a very bright future in store for it.

In Ogea county, N. Y., farm hands are so scarce that the tillers of the soil have been holding up trains in search of laborers. This is a hardship on the lazy man.

The hot wave, which swept over the south last week brought about much distress and suffering. In Selma, Alabama, the thermometer registered at 112; Albany, 108; Montgomery, 105; Tuscaloosa, Ala., 103; Rome, 101; Columbus, 97; Atlanta, 96; Dahlonega, 97.

It is said the Ducktown copper companies are negotiating with a party who proposes to smelt their copper without roasting it. If this can be done it will be a great relief to the people, not only of Ducktown, but of the whole surrounding country for twenty miles or more away. Blue Ridge is eighteen miles or more away, and the smoke is beginning to darken the atmosphere here, and taint the air with the odor of the sulphur, for a few hours every morning early.—Blue Ridge World.

Judge Huff has had the court room securely locked at night, and now the boys have to take their drinks at some other place.

CITATION.

State of Georgia, Lumpkin County: Whereas, certain petitioners have made their application to this Court, praying for an order granting the establishment of a new road commencing at the "Cooper Gap Road", about one-fourth of a mile of Two Run post office in Lumpkin county and running from thence the old road bed, a north easterly direction to the Union county line at the "Ward Gap", and whereas commissioners appointed for that purpose have reviewed said contemplated road and reported to me that said road will be one of much public utility and convenience. Now this is to cite and admonish all persons that on and after the 6th day of August, 1901, said new road will be granted if no good cause is shown to the contrary.

Given under my hand and official signature, this 3rd day of July, 1901. JOHN HUFF, Ord'y.

Valuable Land For Sale.

Offer for sale the farm known as Berry Lemon place on Nimblerwill creek in Lumpkin county. The place contains 280 acres, about one-third being bottom land. Georgia, Lumpkin County: Jessica K. Tate, having made application for a twelve month's support for herself and minor children out of the estate of J. J. W. Tate, and appraisers duly appointed to set apart the same having filed their return, all persons concerned are hereby required to show cause before the Court of Ordinary of said county on the first Monday in August, 1901, why said application should not be granted and said return allowed and ordered to record. THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 19, 1901.

Don't you like the Nugget? If not don't take it.

The coolest thing in town. "Matthews Popular Found."

Mr. Rice Arrendale is very sick, but we trust that he will soon recover.

Miss Leila Butt, of Blairsville, is over on a visit to her sister Mrs. Frank Jones.

A wagon sold here at public outcry last Friday for $1.50. All getting ready for the railroad.

This way of calling every fellow who comes here pretending to be a miner "Cap'n" makes us tired.

We notice that some of the members take more interest in the bath house at Cane Creek falls than they do in their church.

We received as a birthday present last Friday—a nice rocking chair. Now we can sit and rock and sing of "that beautiful home over there."

"Young" Fate Seabolt, of this county, charged with making moonshine liquor, was up before Com. Baker Friday, but as there was not sufficient proof to convict he was discharged.

Joseph Sparks has a stalk of corn in his garden measuring 12 feet and four inches in length. What is the use of going away to Oklahoma in search of a better productive country than Lumpkin county?

We understand that a box supper was given in Gaddistown recently in behalf of the Sunday School teachers in that community. This is something new. In Dahlonega there are generally more teachers than pupils, especially in birds nest season.

Geo. Walker, who we mentioned as getting into trouble with some bullies of North Carolina last week, says that it is a joke about them making him dance and shooting at them, but when he followed them to search his valise he found a ground biscuit to get in its work.

Mr. Jarrard left for Oklahoma this week in search of a better home. Others in this county were speaking of going but they backed out, which no doubt was a wise conclusion for the hardships to be endured in quest of this free land are too great even if every one could get a tract.

The plates, at the Calhoun mine were stolen, scraped and thrown into the Chestatee river Friday night. The thieves, three in number, were well acquainted from all indications. Robt. Poston was in the mill but the pump made too much noise for him to hear them.

The temperance program at the Methodist church last Sunday evening was right interesting and largely attended as usual, nevertheless a temperance society in a "dry town" doesn't speak much for the place. If all would live up to the rules of the church there would be no use of a temperance society.

The publication of the article in reference to Terry Shelton, the hairless man of North Carolina, in last week's Nugget has caused much comment, some claiming that it "was just newspaper talk," disbelieving it, thinking that there is no such a man in existence. It is certainly a fact. He is still alive and was seen by George W. Walker, of this county, no longer than week before last.

A gentleman from Union county this week informed us that the members of Mt. Airy church recently passed a resolution not allowing a Methodist minister hereafter to preach in their church. It seems that they do not care whether anybody gets to heaven unless they go the Baptist route. Better throw out all the inducements possible, for there will be abundance of vacant space in heaven unless a big change takes place.

And still they come—now subscribers.

Hot, hotter, hottest, and still getting warmer.

Try "Matthews" Diarrhoea and Dysentery Remedy and be relieved.

Mrs. David Seabolt died in Chestatee district last Saturday.

The best way to keep cool these hot days is to sit on ice and read the Nugget.

"Matthews" Sarsaparilla relieves those tired feelings. $1.00 bottle for 75 cents.

L. K. Donavin, of Columbus, O., who is interested in Crown Mountain mine, is in the city.

A heavy storm visited a portion of Chestatee district Tuesday leveling trees and damaging crops.

We have lost about 75 chickens within the past two weeks. The cholera certainly gets in its work.

If you desire any photographs taken call at Breard's Art Gallery, where you can secure first class work at reasonable prices.

T. J. Smith will interest you in the price of staple groceries. Call on him and examine goods and prices.

Our health is improving causing us to feel as gay as a peacock. We feel grateful to both the Lord and physicians.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn preached at Pleasant Ridge last Sunday, and will also preach on the second Sunday in next month.

We are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Meaders for a nice valuable pen. Such an act of kindness will never be forgotten by us.

We are informed that Rev. V. A. Higgins and Mrs. Christian had a fight down at Auraria the other day. The lady threw rocks manfully but did no damage.

Dr. Stow made a case against little John Harbison for riding a bicycle on the side walk but after an investigation Mayor Price decided that no law had been violated Monday.

Mrs. Robt. Patton died at her home in Cane Creek district last Friday. The deceased leaves a husband and several little children to mourn her loss, besides a host of other relatives and friends.

We notice that the paper on the wall of the Methodist church is torn and hanging down in several places. Just a little paste and ten minutes work would greatly improve the looks of the building.

John Thomaston & Son, well known here, operating a bar out at Jasper, and Lige Vandergriff, a government distiller, and the gauger, have all been arrested and put under bond for blockading in conjunction.

After Sargent and Ricketts had made a bond for the girls dormitory at Dahlonega "they flew the track." The committee had a meeting and decided to give them more, and the work of excavating has commenced.

Capt. Asbury told us this week that both the 43rd and 52nd regiments of Confederate vets are preparing to reunite in Gainesville in August, exact date to be given hereafter. They often fought side by side in the army and their meeting again will be a happy occasion.

A petition signed by several citizens of this county, living in the neighborhood of Bud Brackets was sent in to the ordinary last week asking that something be done for his family. It is alleged that the husband has abandoned his wife and children and they are suffering.

While W. P. Price, Jr., was out at the falls bathing last Friday his suit "exploded" in the presence of several ladies causing him to have to remain in the water until chilled through and through. This is about as bad a fix as we got into once when we fell and tore the bosom of our pants on a cross cut saw in the presence of a lady and her escort.

Corn sold at 80 cents per bushel last week, being the lowest it has sold at for some time.

Stock and cattle powders for sale by B. R. Meaders & Sons. Also chicken cholera medicine.

Several more mining men have been here this week, all of whom seem to be very much interested.

We received an order from Habersham county the other day for a lot of blanks. This is the fruits of advertising.

"Do you believe the railroad will be built?" is often asked us. We do. It is now in the hands of men who mean business.

To tell you that people had been sleeping under a blanket in Dahlonega last week would doubtless be disbelieved by many, nevertheless it is true.

The public schools of Lumpkin county all commenced last Monday morning. Teachers are poorly paid but maybe there is a better day coming.

The tax receiver closed his books last Saturday. The most property returned by any party or company is the Consolidated Co., being $104,500.

To the road Commissioners.—You are notified to have the public roads worked out according to law at once.

JOHN HUFF, Ordinary.

The bank in Dahlonega recently established by Mr. Crawford, seems to be receiving a very liberal patronage and is a great convenience to those having money.

Tax receiver Healan says that he will have his books ready for the ordinary and comptroller at an early day. He has pushed his work through with a vim.

Snakes seem to be plentiful in this community. Tax receiver Healan informs us that he noticed where 13 had crossed the road once the rain between Dahlonega and the two mile post on the Cooper Gap road.

A cow belonging to Wm. Heelan, residing near the foot of the Blue Ridge was bitten by a snake the other day. She howled like she had been snapped by a dog. The cow didn't die but her milk turned perfectly yellow.

On Monday morning of the first week of the Lumpkin county's teachers institute there were only about nine teachers present, causing them to be very much discouraged and wish there was no such thing as an institute, but later on it began to grow in interest causing them to pass resolutions unanimously favoring it.

A buckboard drawn by an ox in charge of a female last Saturday seemed to excite the curiosity of some of our Northern visitors. They will see many things of interest by coming down and staying with us awhile. Very often ladies plow them and make corn while their husbands are out in the mountains making liquor for medical purposes(?)

We don't know how the young ladies dormitory of the N. G. A. College is going to be run, but if it is not managed differently to that of the boys there is no use of going to the expense of building it. The young men's dormitory last year was vacated for some time. It is a hard matter for the board of trustees of the institution to be directly interested in the welfare of the dormitory when several of them heard students themselves.

Prof. Wilber Colvin of Dahlonega has been selected as one of the three judges on thought and composition for the national oratorical contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association to be held at Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 1st and 2nd. That this is a very distinguished honor will be appreciated when it is understood that this will be the largest and greatest intercollegiate oratorical contest ever held in the nation. There will be twelve contestants representing twelve states, and each of these contest is the honor man in a state contest of representations of the best colleges of each of these states.

The blackberry crop is large.

General Harden has been back again this week looking after his mining interests here.

Mrs. R. H. Webb is on a visit this week to Oakwood, Ga.

Anderson & Jones are going to commence the erection of a business house first of next month.

Students have already commenced making arrangements for rooms in which to mess this fall when the college opens.

Capt. W. J. Worley is still securing rights of ways for the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric line, and having them recorded, getting ready for business.

A Reward of $5.00 will be paid for proof that will lead to the conviction of the parties that stole, scraped and threw them into the Chestatee river, copper plates belonging to the Calhoun Gold Mine.

A civil righter was brought in from White county first of the week by Deputy Marshal Grizzle and carried before Commissioner Baker charged with violating the internal revenue law was acquitted.

Anderson & Jones are now ready to receive bids for the erection of a two story store building. See plans at their place of business. Work to begin Aug. 1st. Will also receive bids for removing a barn.

The suit of Frank Murray vs. Howell & Miller, about the Briar Patch property, which was to have been heard by Judge Estes at Gainesville this week, had to be postponed on account of the sickness of Mr. Murray.

James A. London, one of Lumpkin's most highly respected citizens died near New Bridge last Tuesday aged about 65. His sufferings were great. The last 70 days of his life he had a physician with him continuously.

Occasionally you will see a load of fodder come into Dahlonega from White county, many miles away. When we get a railroad we will get to see many more tillers of the soil, not only from that county, but from many others.

We understand that Mrs. Richard Dowdy and Sarah Dowdy, two plucky females of Dowsdowntown, had a misunderstanding the other day which resulted in blows. All is quiet at this writing and it may be many years before the citizens of that community are disturbed by another occurrence of this kind.

Quite a number of Lumpkin county hands are engaged at work over at Ducktown. There seems to be employment at that place for every body who wish to work, but the smoke does not suit all who go and they return to Lumpkin where the atmosphere is perfectly clear and bright.

Will Coley was fined two and cost by Mayor Price last Tuesday for disorderly conduct the day previous. In the mean time a man named Jackson swore out a warrant against Coley charging him with drawing a pistol on him the same day, who was bound over and required to give a bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court.

There seems to still be bad blood between H. L. Mote and Berry Porter who had a fight out in the country the other day. Mote hands us an article for publication but there are too much swearing in it to appear in print. He says that Berry didn't draw any knife on him but did try to hit him with a bottle. A number of blows seemed to be passed. Mote getting in several of them.

Charlie Anderson cal., a son of Prime Anderson, of this county, fell from one of the cotton factories in Gainesville last Monday, killing him instantly. He was carrying up mortar and his foot slipped and he tumbled off a distance of 60 feet. An inquest was held and a verdict in accordance with these facts returned and the boy was brought back to his home a mile or so out in the country for burial.

A Big Fizzle.

As the baby editor of the Signal devoted much space last week in telling falsehoods and endeavoring to misrepresent the Nugget we want the people generally to learn what kind of an aspect he is, knowing but few of them will ever see what he says unless it appears in the Nugget, a paper not tied up to any man, clique or corporation. The first effort of misrepresentation is the following:

"The Signal is the official organ of the county officers and does the legal printing for the city and all our mining corporations."

The following notice published in the Signal several years ago, which has never been changed, shows the facts in reference to the county officers. Year before last the Nugget was made the official organ of the city, as informed by Col. Price, but we told him that we hadn't asked for all of the city printing and would continue to publish the advertising for a division of the fees, not even mentioning the fact before. Here is the two county office notice, which was published in the Signal:

"To Whom it May Concern—Notice is hereby given that from and after this date, the legal advertisements of Lumpkin county will be advertised in the DAHLONEGA NUGGET, a weekly newspaper published at Dahlonega, Ga., and that the same will also be published in the Dahlonega Signal, as heretofore, each paper to receive one-half legal fees for said advertising. Witness our hands and seals, this 28th day of April, 1900."

J. M. WILLIAMS, Ord'y.

J. M. BROOKS, Sheriff.

Here is another amusing item that may be read with laughter when seen: "Col. W. P. Price, the chief magistrate of the city of Dahlonega, has severed all connections with the Nugget, and yet the Nugget states that it is the most popular paper in the town. God at last will probably save us in heaven."

We don't know anything about the probability of the bean pole editor's chances in heaven, but judge that they are rather slim. The Colonel may control the Signal, having had mortgages on it for years, but he can't dictate to the Nugget and have us jump every time he pops his whip.

Another funny item from the Signal to-wit:

"The Signal has always given a more elaborate report of the gold mines than the Nugget and there is not a citizen in Dahlonega that will not admit this fact. The truth of the matter is, the Nugget man has been soufrier in his representations the men at the head of some of our main enterprises will not give out anything to him either personally or for publication. If we were in the Nugget's shoes we would crawl off and die."

This is correct to a certain extent. We don't stretch out in order to get up a couple of columns of "mining news" for no man or company and make a false report for a two cents cheroot. Of course all "reliable mining news" is not paid for, because if it was we do not know who would be responsible for the following item appearing in that paper last week: "The Signal" as original which is very good, but the brainy editor failed to state whether it was located in Europe or Africa. Read it. It is very valuable(?) information:

"Some new discoveries have been made outside of the country and it is likely that a pounding mill will be erected to crush the ores. Aside from the chances of little claims which have been opened on the property a very large quartz low grade lead has been discovered. Much of the ore from the small veins show gold and is approximately estimated to be worth $20 per ton."

Here is the feeble reply he makes in reference to us having the largest circulation:

"The people to advertise in is the paper having the largest circulation among the better class of people. Advertising does very little good when it is circulated largely among a class of people who have to scrimp and scrimp one day for what they eat the next."

You laborers should remember this the next time he wishes you to subscribe for the Signal and proposes to take the pay in a "commissary check or any kind of produce."

Another "original" mining item in last week's Signal slipped from some old book which you all know to be false:

"The main gold mining region of Georgia is in Lumpkin county and the surrounding country, and there is a city there whose streets are literally paved with gold. This is Dahlonega."

And this one:

"How about the Union Store ad. still hanging in the Nugget. The management ordered it out weeks ago and otherwise severed its connection with the Nugget, but editor Forward forgot to say anything about that. The Signal has never come to that point when it is to push itself on the people or a support."

Generally the Signal takes up the pay before doing the work, not caring then whether it is done at all. The statement alone that a company would let us "push ourselves on them" proves that the assertion is false, and we will give you ten dollars to prove that the ad. of the company has been ordered out.

Another funny item in that paper last week was its leading editorial "Dahlonega," taken from an old book or prospectus written 13 years ago, in which it stated that "drunkenness is conspicuous in its absence" in Dahlonega, when it is really a fact that the little Signal man has paid out to the city council this year $14 for being drunk himself.

We the committee on resolutions submit the following:

Resolved 1st, That the Institute is what we make it.

The Cherokee Advance has this to say about Gen. Warner who has recently located in Dahlonega: Gen. Warner has been a resident of this county for several years engaged all this time as General Manager and one of the principal owners of the old Cherokee mine which he has built up by his intelligent efforts to rank with the leading mines of the state as a gold producer and has shown himself eminently qualified to take charge of such extensive enterprises as the Crown Mountain Gold Mine, and the building of an electric line from Gainesville to Dahlonega. While we claim Gen. Warner as a citizen of Cherokee, and know his mental capacity and industrial worth, it is a matter of pride that the great industrial interests of other sections appreciate his merits and demand his personal supervision to push their enterprise. Such men as Gen. Warner honor any section in which he may be placed and Georgia is proud to have his presence and co operation in her various industrial pursuits.

H. P. Stegall, of Emerson, Ga., was up a day or two this week. Mr. Stegall was telling us about two men being killed by lightning near his place Monday. They were returning to the house with hoes on their shoulders.

The old Williams house built more than 50 years ago on the college lot opposite the old Baptist church, is being torn away to give place for a more modern structure to be used as a dormitory for the girls of the college.

An article given advice to boys states: "Get a reputation for lying or tricky prevarication and you're gone. Get it for a year, and it will stick to you for a lifetime." The above is literally true. By looking, acting or telling one lie to one person you lose his confidence forever. What he may tell others about you on account of that one lie may cause you the loss of the respect of many more. A liar is forever checked in everything. He can't get the confidence of anybody. He is the most contemptible creature, God ever made. Of all the people in the world let us be drawn in the company of a liar last.—Ex.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all its mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have originated in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of 65.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga., or Donovin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Marietta, Ohio.

A new and strange enterprise, such as has never before been undertaken in this country, is contemplated in Massachusetts, viz: a frog farm. Ten acres of land has been purchased, and they are now rapidly putting it in shape for the novel product they propose cultivating. This tract of land is admirably suited for the purpose, as a stream of water passes through it. Artificial ponds of various dimensions will be used in which to propagate these little animals, and as they grow will be changed from the smaller to the larger ponds. There seems to be a great demand in some states for frogs as an article of food, and also for them in the study of natural history and medical research, and the supply is not sufficient for the demand. We don't think, however, that Eatonton would take much stock in such an enterprise.—Messenger.

Hon. G. D. Bruce left last Friday for Oklahoma where he will remain about a couple of months before returning to Lumpkin. This will give him ample time to rest up and be ready for his legislative duties in the fall.

The Best Remedy for Stomach and Bowel Troubles.

"I have been in the drug business for twenty years and have sold most of the proprietary medicines of any note. Among the entire list I have never found anything to equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles," says O. W. Wakefield, of Columbus, Ga. "This remedy cured two severe cases of cholera morbus in my family and I have recommended and sold hundreds of bottles of it to my customers to their entire satisfaction. It affords a quick and sure cure in a pleasant form." For sale by The Matthew's drug Co.

He Yielded.

It was once usual for Highland shepherds to take their dogs into church and leave them outside the pews. Two shepherds at enmity sat on opposite sides of the aisle one Sunday, and soon after the sermon began, the dogs—one a collie and the other not—seemed to enter into their masters' quarrel. The shepherds egged on their dogs in undertones, and soon there was a real fight in progress. Most of those in the immediate neighborhood craned their necks over the pews to see how the encounter was coming out, and not a few were standing up. The minister's patience was ultimately exhausted, and so he called to his hearers and said:

"Ah, well, my bretherin, I see ye are more interested in the dog fight than in my sermon and so I'll close the buik—and I'll bet half a crown on the collie!"—Waverly Magazine.

"Lime-ade," cool and refreshing at Matthews popular fount.

The teachers, who had been attending the Lumpkin county institute, were giving an entertainment on Thursday night of last week at the residence of Prof. and Mrs. B. P. Gaillard. It was a pleasant occasion and one long to be remembered by each and every one present. Both the Professor and his wife are great friends to education and never fail to lend a helping hand whenever an opportunity is offered.

Heartburn.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of stomach after eating indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. An Impartial Woman.

"This is the grave of the most impartial woman on record," said the guide in Cave Hill cemetery to a party who visited the beautiful cemetery recently. "Away over that second knoll there is a lot containing only two graves, and the headstone of each is marked 'Father'."

"The woman who is buried here was married twice, and the two graves in that lot are the graves of her two husbands. She tried her best to treat her second husband as she did the first, and even when he died she had no idea of showing any preference. But she was sick when the funeral service of her second husband was held. She directed that the partner of her second matrimonial venture be laid by the side of the first, but that enough space be left to bury her between the two."

"By some look or crook, a mistake was made and when she visited the cemetery she found that they were buried side by side, with no space between."

"Well, sir, she didn't know what to do. She argued that if she should be buried by the side of her first husband it would not be fair to the memory of her last spouse, and vice versa. What did she do? Why, when she died she left a request that she be buried in another lot, away from both of them. And it was heeded.—Louisville Courier-Examiner."

The country has been in a most prosperous condition several years but the war between labor and capital now going on is ruining it. A telegram last week from Pittsburgh, Pa., stated that the great strike there was costing three companies $210,000 per day, and the workmen lose $150,000 in wages.

The pecans growing within the limits of Waycross, Ga., are said to be very beautiful. Some of the nuts last year sold at 20 cents each for planting purposes. There is a pecan tree near Homerville that yields its owner every year about $30.

Three Interesting Love Letters.

The following love letters from a young man to a young lady residing in the mountains have been sent to us by the one who received them for publication, which will be read with interest by both old and young. The young man thought the lady liked him so well that he could act most any way and she wouldn't care, but he has found out differently to his sorrow, for when he got drunk and went up with a big ginger cake gnawing the bread and singing,

"My sweet Marie,
How I love thee."

this ended all courtships between them on her part, and he is again alone in the world with no one to love or respect him. The letters begin as follows:

Farmers' Phone Mad.

"I can talk from here, my office in Chicago, with over 1,800 farmers within a radius of thirty miles from Chicago's city limits," said General Manager Hibbard of the Chicago Telephone Company, to a Chicago newspaper reporter.

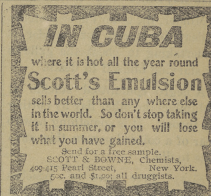

From what he said, and from other information received, it is evident that the farmers of Illinois are going telephone mad. "It is a poor and far from the idea of a farmer these days who has no 'phone in his cottage. Illinois husbandmen it is asserted, believe in the telephone because they can talk to their Chicago milk, butter, cream and cheese dealers over the metal wire every evening, if they wish; they can talk prices, market conditions and receive a clear idea of what is expected of them. Of what value this is to their business it is hard to guess, but it apparently must be considerable."

But farmers in this state, south of Chicago, are also putting in private systems. General Manager Hibbard is conversant with this phase of the telephone situation. He said:

"Yes, the farmer of to-day is getting a telephone in his home in one way or another. Where our company or the Central Union or some other firm does not serve him the farmer generally pays about $10 for a telephone outfit of his own. Generally two or more farmers go in on the deal, and they string the wires along the fence, on the bean poles or tamarack posts. They obtain a crude service for themselves at a small cost. This is not uncommon, but our company gives so much more at a nominal figure that its scheme is gaining favor."

"For instance, a great number of agriculturists are putting in 'phones at the three farmers in one mile get phones for a dollar a month. Their instrument connects with the chief exchange, which is most often located at the county seat. One farmer wants to talk to another; he calls up central, which is in the town or village nearest him probably the seat of the county and asks for the number of his fellow farmer's instrument; this is speedily given him, and the two are free to talk on the subject of the day or about their own interests, as they please. But this is only one incident. I find that every evening the farming communities use the telephone almost unremittently."

From Calloun Times: We hope our representative will introduce and pass the uniform text book bill. The way things are now new books have to be bought every year, and it is a heavy tax upon our people for nothing. If we are going to have a free school let us have it, and if we are to be burdened each year buying new books, let us do away with the so-called free school system.

Origin of Memorial Day in the South.

An association known as the Ladies' Aid society was organized in 1861 for looking after soldiers who died in Columbus hospitals. They were buried under the direction of these ladies, who thereafter took charge of their graves, making it a practice to go in a body to care for and beautify them with plants and flowers. Upon the occasion of one of these visits, in January, 1865, Miss Lizette Rutherford, a member of the society, made the suggestion that a specified day should be adopted upon which a memorial service should be held for the purpose of decorating the Confederate graves annually. The proposition met at once with the greatest favor, and a letter was addressed to each of the chapters in other cities and towns suggesting similar action on their part.

These letters were written in March, 1866, and from their publication resulted the observance of April 26 as Memorial day for the Confederate dead in several southern states.—Mrs. V. Jefferson Davis in Woman's Home Companion.

We are requested to publish the following by T. M. Elliott for Prof. Sharp: "A report is being widely circulated to the effect that Prof. J. A. Sharp has resigned the presidency of Young Harris College and has left the institution altogether. This report is working an injury to the school, as there are some who hear of this report and are deciding not to return in September, but otherwise would if they knew the true state of affairs. We would be greatly obligated to you if you would kindly mention in your valuable columns that the report is utterly false. Prof. Sharp is now absent, but is working in the interest of the school."

A satoon was wrecked by a bolt of lightning in Birmingham one day last week, and one man killed.

Thos. E. Watson will abandon law and go to lecturing.

Gainesville is building up faster than any other city in Georgia.

Minder, the tailor under sentence of death in Macon for murder is undertaking to cheat the gallows by starving himself to death.

A negro committed suicide at Columbus the other day by cutting his throat. It is something new to hear of a colored person this anxious to die.

Sixty three cars of peaches were shipped from Georgia last Friday, making a total of 506 cars shipped during the present season up to that date.

The day fixed for the reunion at Gainesville of the Forty-third regiment of Georgia volunteers, in conjunction with the Fifty-second regiment, is the 20th day of August.

Fifteen thousand acres of wheat went up in flames at Great Bend, Kans. on the 9th inst. The fire was caused by an unknown man throwing a lighted cigarette into a field of wheat stubble.

Out in a Texas town a few days ago the local minister prayed for rain, and a storm came along and wrecked a church, which shows that when ministers pray for rain they ought to give specifications.—Eatonton Messenger.

H. L. Richardson, United States deputy collector of internal revenue, with headquarters at Gainesville, has been transferred to Athens, and has been succeeded at Gainesville by deputy collector W. E. Crockett, of Marietta.

Not long since after Starling Cantrell's barn was destroyed by lightning and his horse killed near Gainesville, Col. Joe Underwood, being an old friend of Mr. Cantrell sent him $5.00. In one week afterwards the Colonels barn was struck by a bolt of lightning and his horse killed.

John Keith who went from Cherokee county, Ga., in 1850 a poor man is now worth over $2,000,000 and gets an income of $200 a day on four oil wells. Before the discovery of oil in Texas he had some surplus land which he offered for 75 cents per acre, but couldn't sell it. Since the discovery of oil he has sold it for $10,000 per acre.

A change made in the postal laws excludes many publications from second class matter. Publishers must get out a paper worth its subscription price without offering various things as premiums if they desire to get the rates of postage allowed second class matter. This is right if a man can't get out a readable paper without offering such inducements he should quit the business.

The child labor bill will come up before the next Georgia legislature again this fall. Better encourage them to work instead of passing a law prohibiting it. There is too much idleness among many of them already. Hundreds of parents in this state refuse to send their children to school now and if this bill becomes a law the already large idle number of children will be greatly increased unless we have compulsory education.

The Gainesville and Dahlonega electric railway company has purchased the Smith and Cox water power near Rockyford on Chestnut river in the eastern part of this county. A dam forty feet high is to be constructed causing the water to back for some distance bringing in contact property owners of the water power proper, with whom satisfaction has been made. We learn the purchase price together with rights-of-way of this property was over $10,000.—Dawsonville Advertiser.

Mining Notes

Work still continues in the tunnel at the Findley driving for the clute.

Mr. Howe is moving right along with his mining over in the edge of Hall.

Both the Thompson and Hamby mines in White county have been suspended for an indefinite period, for what purpose we do not know.

Jim Hughes at the Betz has 20 men doing well. They are all native miners and know where and how to strike to be of advantage to their employer.

If you are still interested in mining here watch the dates opposite your names on the Nugget and renew in time not to miss a single copy of the paper.

A splendid vein was struck in the Dahlonega shaft last week showing galena and much gold. It may be that they have struck the Findley lead or another just as good.

Mr. Packard is still doing well at Turkey Hill. He has about struck the Lawrence vein, and the ore he is taking out is rich, causing our old friend to move about like a sixteen-year-old lad.

Down at the Calhoun Jake Loggins and Beck have struck some rich ore, and Lemly and Keenan are doing well on their placer diggings, and Wharton Anderson's placer diggings continue rich.

An occasional correspondent of the Mining Journal says that the four dredge boats within 30 miles of Dahlonega earn on an average of $10,000 per annum. This is a very good showing for these small boats.

Mining in Auraria district has taken on new life and we expect to hear of other parts of the county doing likewise in an early day. The gold is here and money can be made at mining if it is properly managed.

Seventy-five hands are now at work on the canal up at the power plant of Crown Mountain Co., which is for the purpose of increasing the power should it become necessary at any time during the dry season.

At the Briar Patch Jack Norrell and Arthur Miller are still moving along with their placer diggings handling gravel that is worth half a pennyweight to the pan. John Norrell also has some good placer diggings.

W. T. Bryson is doing some work on the Keystone and is getting some good shows. Mr. Bryson is among our oldest and best prospectors who is generally successful at every effort made. If he fails to find the gold it is almost useless for any one else to try.

We Want To Win!

We are headed for the goal of your approval. We'd like to have you to give us a chance to win your patronage. We have the most complete stock, and we keep moving to the front. We'll win, of course; want you help us?

H. D. GURLEY.

Let those having mining property here either work it themselves or lease it to somebody that will. To buy up hundreds of acres of property and let it idle does the country and the people residing therein more harm than good.

Everything is moving along at Crown Mountain mine perfectly smooth and satisfactory. The giant for the placer work is running both day and night, and no delay has been caused so far by electric storms, the lightning arresters having been arranged so perfectly. The Huntington mills were started last Tuesday and work like a charm.

The machine that is being shipped here for the Hand mine is one patented by Mr. Breyman, its president, who arrived on Monday.

CITATION.

State of Georgia, Lumpkin County: Whereas, certain petitioners have made their application to this Court, praying for an order granting the establishment of a new road commencing at the "Cooper Gap Road" about one-fourth of a mile of Two Run post office in Lumpkin county, and running from thence the old road bed a north easterly direction to the Union county line at the "Ward Gap"; and whereas commissioners appointed for that purpose have reviewed said contemplated road and reported to me that said road will be one of much public utility and convenience. Now this is to cite and admonish all persons that on and after the 5th day of August, 1901, said new road will be granted if no good cause is shown to the contrary.

Given under my hand and official signature, this 3rd day of July, 1901.

last. We understand that a Hix machine has also been ordered. Both will be given a fair test and no doubt if they are a success the one saving the most gold at the least expense will be adopted. The Hix process has already been tested but not here, giving apparently wonderful results but it does not discourage Mr. Breyman about his until it is tested. If his proves equal to the Hix or better there is no doubt in our mind but what his will be adopted by the company on account of Mr. Breyman being one of its largest stockholders.

STOPS PAIN

Athens, Tenn., Jan. 27, 1901. Ever since the first appearance of my babies they were very irregular and I suffered with great pain in my hips, back, stomach and feet, with terrible bearing down pains in the abdomen. During the past month I have been taking Wine of Cardui and therefore I feel strong and I passed the monthly period without pain for the first time in years.

What is life worth to a woman suffering like Nanette Davis suffered? Yet there are women in thousands of homes to-day who are having these terrible menstrual pains in silence. If you are one of these we want to say that this same

WINE OF CARDUI

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JULY 26, 1901.

We keep all kinds of blanks you see mentioned elsewhere.

The coolest thing in town. "Matthews Popular Point."

The Nugget does not have to offer any brass finger rings called gold as premiums to induce people to take it.

F. J. Williams, of Gaddistown, has located in Lumpkin near Two Run, Ga. Fulton is a clever fellow, full of life and fun and we welcome him to our county.

There was said to be about fifteen applicants for the janitors place of the college recently made vacant on account of Henry Johnson resigning. Al Roberts was elected.

The prospect for a good corn crop in this section is very promising. Jay Williams upon his return from Union county informed us last week that the same could be said of that section.

It was Henry Thomaston, and not John Thomaston, who got into liquor trouble out at Nelson, which was mentioned in last weeks paper. He is a brother to Henry but neither makes, drinks or sells liquor.

Lightning damaged the telephone line during the storm on Thursday night of last week between Murrayville and the Chattahoochee bridge so that it cut off all communication between Dahlonega and Gainesville on Friday.

Look at the date on your paper and renew when your subscription expires. We mean you. Those getting their papers at the Dahlonega postoffice have no dates on them but will generally find a cross mark on the margin of them which is to call their attention and they are requested to renew their subscriptions to the Nugget if they wish to continue reading it.

The other night a certain young man drunk so much Peruna that he pulled off his breeches near the jail where he was found in a helpless condition by some friends and carried to his room. Next morning he had to remain in bed until a friend could buy him some clothes. The little cotton breeches are so short that they look like some of the ladies bath in out at the falls.

An old negro man who said that he was 98 years old and lived at Houston, Ga., after spending one night in Dahlonega last week, passed on a foot towards the Blue Ridge mountains. He says that some one owes him somewhere in this county he thinks but can't tell where they live. He is pretty old to be taking useless trips so far away from home, yet he says that he walked 30 miles the first day. Since he has returned and gone back.

Some time ago we mentioned a man who got and in Dahlonega just because a man kissed his wife. Not many nights ago one went to a neighbors house and found his wife sitting in another mans lap. It didn't make him mad. If it did he said nothing about it, for he returned without molesting or speaking to either, and she went home at her pleasure and both are still living under the same roof apparently as happy as they were when they agreed to love and comfort each other in the hour of sickness and distress.

A certain laborer working in the mines here promised his little boy not long since that if he would be good he would bring him a suit of clothes when he returned. On the following Saturday night the father had over traded up his weeks wages without thinking of the promise he had made before leaving home. When he got there the little fellow met him at the door and anxiously enquired: "Did you get my clothes, papa?" "No," replied the father, "I got behind at the Commissary." "Why didn't you get in it?" asked the disappointed little fellow.

Lemons, lemons, lemons at Matthews.

The Methodist preacher is trying to get the people interested enough to run a protracted meeting.

J. E. Meaders, of Swainsboro, Ga., is now with his family in Dahlonega, who came on some days ahead.

The recent discovery of oil gushers in Texas and other places causes no decrease in the price of oil in Dahlonega. It is still 20 cents per gallon.

We look for our next pair of breeches to come higher on account of the recent strike of 67,000 garment workers in New York and other cities.

Gen. Murray, president of the G. & D. Electric Railway Co., is expected Monday or Tuesday. It is said that they have already a place to sell the bonds as soon as issued.

Bring us your photographs and have them framed nicely at a low price. A big lot of frames just received. Also some pretty brass curtain rods at 50c pair.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Mr. VanVleck, who is interested in dredge mining in the Chatteah river, after an absence for some time in California and other places has returned and was in the city Tuesday for the first time since his return.

If you get a copy of the Semi-Weekly Atlanta Journal look over it carefully and you desire to take it send us $1.50 and you will get both it and the Nugget twelve months. If you are already taking the Nugget the Journal will only cost you fifty cents extra.

R. C. Wood, after an absence from Dahlonega for near a month, returned last Monday. Mr. Wood says that he has traveled some two or three thousand miles since he left here, and finds that Georgia has the best corn crop of any of the other states that he passed through.

We ought to be a happy people in this mountain country. While we are enjoying good rains and pleasant weather the southwest is scorching with heat, thermometer ranging from 100 to 108 and in the streets of some of the cities 128. Let us be thankful for being blessed with such a delightful country as ours is.

The school teachers will be paid some more money. An itemized statement of the State School Commissioner shows that there is a balance in the treasury of $22,228 which will be distributed to the counties to which the state owes money. Lumpkins is $171.90. This is a small amount but it will help some.

There are differences of opinion about Nelius Goodlocks condition, who was shot the other night, so much so that several bets have been made. Some think that he will die while others say that he is too mean to go. Watches, boxes of cigars and even several quarts of liquor have been put up on it by different parties.

Notwithstanding many of the present streets need work R. F. Whelchel has been ordered to move his fence and open one out in front of his house through his lot so persons, averaging one a day, can travel that way in the direction of Crane's Hill. We have streets a plenty unless the present ones were worked better and we had more people to travel them.

The Nugget seems to be a power. Mr. Breymann, V. P. of the Consolidated Company the other day tried to make it appear that it had caused that mine to shut down or about so. Some of the members of this company mined in both White and Dawson counties and the Dawson county mine suspended about the time the Consolidated started while the one in White suspended only a few days ago. The vein in the shaft pinched out. Did the Nugget cause that? No mine will pay anywhere the way the Consolidated was conducted, even if they had 40 veins as rich as the Findley chute.

Oh what delightful nights we are having. They give the weary so much comfort and rest.

Arthur Miller and his two sisters, Miss Annie and Miss Bessie, of Auraria, spent last Sunday in Dahlonega.

The pillars for the bridge over Chestatee at Neider's ford will soon be ready for the contractors to perform their work.

Homer Castiberry, who has been engaged in the insurance business at Birmingham is here on a visit to his relatives and will likely remain most of the summer.

A Dawson county young man made application the other day to Judge Huff for marriage license to enable him to wed a young lady residing in the same county but he didn't get them.

We noticed the appearance of E. D. Norris, of Washington City, in Dahlonega last week, visiting his wife's relatives. Mr. Norris now has a position in the government printing office.

Just received another shipment of shoes all sizes and grades. Call and let us show them to you. Remember that our spring dry goods are going at prices that will astonish you. We are going to sell them at some price.

FRANK L. REESE.

The jury commissioners should be very careful who they select to serve as jurors. We could mention a man who was in the jury box and served on the grand jury for years and years, and at the same time living with a woman, who he has abandoned, having a lot of illegitimate children now asking for assistance from the county.

The other day while Henry Johnson, the former janitor of the college was tearing away the old building which he had occupied, he found a rattle snake's pit between the weatherboarding and ceiling. It is said that they are good to keep the rats away but we prefer rats to these or any other kind of snakes and we expect Henry does to.

We notice where a New Jersey preacher is serving free lunches to the congregation during the summer to induce people to attend. The ministers here are too poorly paid to do anything of this kind, but as the people of Dahlonega are so fond of bathing that some of them go away out to Crane Creek falls two or three times a week it might be if a swimming pool was connected with the churches it would cause them to have a larger attendance.

We notice when any college letter heads are wanted they are ordered from Atlanta in large quantities, when they could be executed in Dahlonega just as good and cheap. But when any little job is needed of two or three hundred a man is sent round to the home offices to see which one will do it the cheapest. If we can't get the cream we don't care to take the clabber. So send it all off to Atlanta to parties who never raise their voices in behalf of the college unless they are paid to do so with but few exceptions.

Last Saturday night while two young men were out on the Cooper Gap road near town they heard some persons coming down the highway at double quick speed. This excited their curiosity and as soon as the couple got near enough an enquiry of who and what it meant was made. It proved to be Miss Ella Adams, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, who reside out at Horners mine, and Oscar Roberts, of Gainesville. But a word or two passed until they went on in a turkey trot, Oscar carrying a little sack supposed to contain his lovers extra dry goods, while she kept within about two steps of his heels and were soon out of sight, being the last they were heard of till they reached Gainesville, where he told that he was married. The girl's father has sent for her to come home.

Try "Matthews" Diarrhoea and Dysentery Remedy and be relieved.

Many of the ladies are now busy putting up canned berries for winter use.

Fodder sold in Dahlonega last Saturday at $2.40 per hundred and on Monday at $1.90.

Rev. Mr. O. Kelly, pastor of the Baptist church at Dahlonega, became quite ill while up in the country last Sunday, but is up again and about recovered.

The directors of the Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Co. have a meeting next Friday, the 2nd of August in Dahlonega. Then bonds will be ordered issued and put on the market for the purpose of raising the money to construct the road.

Mr. Chas. Hope, of Gainesville, was wedded to Miss Flossie London, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Merrett M. London, in this county, on Sunday last by Rev. Wallace Rogers. May prosperity and happiness ever attend them.

The pension claims are not coming in as fast as we anticipated for this county. It is said that some who were on the indigent list have got able to work and will not likely call on the state for any assistance unless they become disabled or yet out of a job again.

Your attention is directed to the advertisement of the Dahlonega Bank. Messrs. J. H. Crawford is president and W. B. Crawford cashier. A bank is a great convenience to any place. Many of you have been wishing for one a long time now lend it your aid and encouragement.

John Stringer told us last Monday while in Dahlonega, that he did intend going and make an effort to get some of the lands at Oklahoma, but after studying over the matter decided that he would remain in old Lumpkin for a while longer at least. No doubt it is a good decision of Mr. Stringer and some of those who have gone may yet wish that they had remained in the old red hills of Georgia.

On last Sunday while Rev. John Rider was making his way to church in Hightower district he was called upon by a Mr. Dispain and Miss Mattie Lingerfelt to make them man and wife. The request was complied with right in the middle of the road while the sun was beaming down at its hottest and great drops of sweat was falling from their brows like dew drops giving way to the morning sun. Notwithstanding all this they went away feeling just as happy as if they had been wedded in a beautiful decorated church to the tune of the wedding march.

Last Saturday the following persons were each served with a notice from the city authorities to move their fences on the line of the Hall survey, the one adopted, by the 10th day of August, otherwise they would be moved by the marshal at their expense: B. F. Anderson, Steven Rice, Charles McAfee, J. E. Moore, M. F. Whelchel, W. H. C. Tate & Sons and W. H. McAfee. Some of the parties claim that they are already on the line while others assert that they have never been paid for the land necessary for such change. A portion of them will carry the matter to the superior Court.

The wedding of Miss Lillian E. Bell, of Gainesville, and Mr. Will F. Worley, of Dahlonega, was solemnized at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gilmore, at Gainesville, Ga., Sunday evening July 21st. The ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Simpson in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride is the youngest daughter of the late Rev. W. B. Bell, and is well and favorably known in this community. Mr. Worley is a young business man of Dahlonega, where he was born and reared. The happy couple will make Dahlonega their future home where they have many friends who, with the Nugget, wish them a long and prosperous life.

The refreshing rains that began last week will add much to the corn crop of this county.

"Matthews" Sarsaparilla relieves those tired feelings. $1.00 bottle for 75 cents.

Judge Ragan, of the Flint circuit was among the visitors at Hall's Villa last week.

Mrs. J. S. Stewart and children, after an absence of several weeks from the city, returned home last week.

Maybe while some of our miners are sinking deep shafts here in search of gold they will come across a gusher of oil.

If you are in search of a place where people are undisturbed by heat during the night, come to Dahlonega and take a good rest.

President Stewart informed us that the indications are that the attendance of the fall session of the N. G. A. College will be very large.

When John Barker stepped on a big snake near Moore's stable Saturday night he jumped farther than any person heretofore found in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Collier and daughter, of Atlanta, are in the city where they will remain for some weeks probably. Mrs. Collier is a sister of Mrs. B. R. Meaders.

Years ago there was a tannery in Dahlonega and several others in the county. Now there is not a single one. It looks to us like this is an industry that would interest some one enough to cause them to establish at least one at some place in the county.

At the annual session of the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College on the 19th inst., Col. O. J. Lilly and R. C. Meaders, of Dahlonega, were elected as members of the board to fill the places of F. L. Haralson, of Atlanta, and J. W. Woodward, of Dahlonega.

A large number of visitors are enjoying themselves at Porter Springs now, causing it to have the appearance of a lively little city. An orchestra from Atlanta is furnishing music for the season, and those there for pleasure instead of health, are having a real nice time.

Two loads of South Georgia melons were brought up to Dahlonega last week from Gainesville, the first of the season for this market, but they looked two old to sell well. After remaining on the square a portion of two days one man carried his load back or out of town, while the other disposed of his to a merchant at a very low price.

A man was telling us last week of a certain person in this county who is drawing a U. S. pension having witnesses that were born after the war. If this be true it should be discontinued. Uncle Sam has plenty of money but none should receive any of it unless entitled, yet some are drawing money that are no more entitled than we are, and we are certain that we have no claim.

Undoubtedly Dahlonega has the cheapest lot of organs and pianos in Georgia, other musical instruments being worth nothing judging from the last tax returns made by many owning them. And it is the same way by the merchandise owned by merchants and many other things we could mention. The city council met the other day to adjust the matter but found so many in the same channel that they decided to let it go.

Mr. Breymann, vice-president of the Consolidated Co., arrived this week but brings no encouraging news. The mine suspended again Wednesday for lack of dynamite. No one has taken the bonds yet. The present or past management has given the mine a black eye. The idea of spending all the money they had to build a 120 stamp mill and chlorination plant and now want to borrow means to develop the property with is ridiculous.

The city council has decided to spend $25 on the street between R. F. Whelchel and W. H. McAfees, so as to cut down the hill some and make the grade less.

W. T. Bryson, of Martin's Ford district has just put a lot of fish baskets into the Chatteah river enabling him to catch all the fish he needs of a night while he prospects for gold during the day.

Since the announcement has been made public in the newspapers about the secret marriage of John L. Hasty to Miss Jennie Byers, two students who attended the last session of the N. G. A. College, some of their special friends couldn't still believe it, but when a certain person came the other day and was shown the records where they were wedded on the 24th day of February, 1901, by Rev. Wallace Rogers, of Dahlonega, then he was convinced.

We have received a letter from H. S. Brackett in reply to what was said last week in reference to a petition being sent to the ordinary asking that something be done with his children who claimed that they were suffering, asking that we explain it so as to throw a different light on the subject, but we don't know that we can help him out any as the petition was made in behalf of his children. This he does not deny. He says that he got into trouble with a certain woman some years ago and that his attorney advised him to marry her, having witnesses to prove that he was not to live with her agreeing to give just such help as he was able. Well, no doubt this is correct, but if these children become chargeable to the county he will have to stand to the rack fodder or no fodder, matters not what agreement was entered into, or whether he lives with the woman or not. The ordinary says that he will take no steps to punish him, but the grand jury no doubt will.

On last Saturday morning between the hours of one and two o'clock Nelius Goodlock was shot in the left breast by Will Wright, both colored, in the stable of Moore Bros. Ben Elrod, another negro, was in the stable at the time but claims to know but little about the difficulty, stating that they were quarreling over 15 cents when he went to sleep and he knew nothing more until he heard the report of the pistol and Nelius told him that he was shot and to go for a physician. Drs. Whelchel and Head were soon present who found that a ball from a 38 caliber had entered near the nipple of his left breast and came out below the shoulder blade about two inches from the back bone, being a very dangerous shot likely to produce death. Nelius has but little to say about it, but it is supposed, that they were playing cards—some think that all three were causing the whole trouble. Marshal Harrison and Sheriff Davis were notified who searched every nook and corner for Wright, but no where could he be found. After daylight Sheriff Davis gained enough information to lead him to believe the negro had gone in the direction of Lula, and in company with Will Rice left in pursuit. They had not gone but a few miles until they found that they were on the right track and followed on until he was discovered at George Owens, 21 miles from Dahlonega, getting a lunch where he was arrested without any trouble and brought back and lodged in jail. Wright said he had to do what he did in order to save himself. This may be the case as we understand that Nelius said if Wright hadn't shot him when he did he would have got him. Wright was brought out before Esquire Allen on Monday who postponed the investigation until further developments. Nelius is a Lumpkin county negro who is yet in his teens and is looked upon as being a bad boy. The other negro came here about a year ago, is a good worker and has been conducting himself all right as far as we know, not being of age either.
